

The only newspaper in Washington with the Associated Press news every morning in the year. For home delivery call Main 4263.

NO. 19,242. ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER

POSTOFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

POST-SCRIPTS

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

"There is no music in the life. That sounds with idiotic laughter solely; There's not a string attuned to mirth, But has its chord in melancholy."

The once great United States Senate, now a little stuffed fox terrier, listens to its master's voice."

The new Reign of Terror begins as the adoption by the Senate of an amendment to the prohibition law, making the penalty for selling a pint of gin as severe as that for manslaughter or burglary, reveals the fact that deplores it as one may the real government of the United States of America today is not Congress and the Executive but the Antisaloon League.

In the old days when America was great "her banner made tyranny tremble." Nowadays tyranny makes everybody else tremble.

ROLL OF HONOR.

The following eighteen Senators, who voted against Ivan the Terrible's ukase, do not wear the collar of the Antisaloon League:

Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware. Hiram Bingham, of Connecticut. John J. Blaine, of Wisconsin. Edwin S. Broussard, of Louisiana. William Cabell Bruce, of Maryland.

Reuel S. Copeland, of New York. Edward I. Edwards, of New Jersey.

Peter G. Gerry, of Rhode Island. Otto F. Ginn, of Illinois. Arthur R. Gould, of Maine. Harry B. Hawes, of Missouri.

Lawrence C. Phipps, of Colorado. Joseph E. Ransdell, of Louisiana. James A. Reed, of Missouri.

Millard E. Tydings, of Maryland. Robert F. Wagner, of New York. David I. Walsh, of Massachusetts. Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana.

We can not approve of the board appointed to try Capt. Burlingame—the Commissioners should have selected Bishop Cannon, John Waterstrat and Billy Sunday.

The House hands a million-dollar cut to the District taxpayers right where Mabel wears the beads.

Buffalo police insist that Pat Crowe is dead in spite of his plaintive denial. What good is the word of a crook?

Police Court jury acquits a man charged with transporting and possessing liquor after a Government chemist had testified that the liquor captured was intoxicating. How many acquittals will there be when the penalty for a first offense is $10,000 and five years?

The Presidency is a curious institution—Mr. Coolidge hardly gets through being pestered by the job-hunters when he begins to experience the sensation of being pestered by those who want to give him a job.

The Senate and the Chicago gangsters continue to set the country an example of lawlessness. Let us hope the Senate will restore itself to confidence by passing the reparation bill, now being held up in flagrant defiance of the Constitution by the very section of the country which is hysterically screaming for "law enforcement."

"Tis strange—but true; for truth is always strange, Stranger than fiction."

Fifty people are injured in a fire across a river. We have never crossed the Hudson tube without speculating on something of this sort, but generally concluded that the roof would crack and let in more than enough water to put any blaze out.

The pulp manufacturers announce that paper umbrellas are now for sale on the American market and all we hope is that they get caught out in the next storm with one of 'em.

We can not grow excited over the report that our first Quaker President will be "affirmed" instead of being "sworn in." As Pericles remarked to Helenus: "I'll take thy word for faith, not ask thine oath."

Who shuns not to break one will surely crack both."

Wonder how many special boards would have to be convened in this city if all the married men who write love letters to strange women were put on trial for their lives?

If the penalty for selling a pint of gin should be $10,000 and five years in prison, what should be the penalty for violating the Constitution of the United States by deliberately holding up a bill for reassembling the membership of the House of Representatives?

Every sincere wet—and all drinkers are sincere drinkers—hopes the day will soon come when the Senate in its drowsiness passes a law imposing the death penalty for agitating a cocktail shaker.

FIRE AND PANIC IN HUDSON TUBE; 50 ARE INJURED

Passengers Battle Madly Under River as Car of Train Burns.

MANY ARE TRAMPLED IN FIGHT TO ESCAPE Clothing Torn Off Bodies of Weaker; Smoke Affects 1,200.

4 MAY NOT RECOVER; LEFT BEHIND IN RUSH

Company Blames Short Circuit; Burning Litter, Say Travelers.

New York, Feb. 19 (N.Y.W.N.S.)—Fifty persons were injured, six seriously, and 1,200 affected by smoke and fumes of burning insulation, 200 so badly they required medical treatment, tonight when the third car of a seven-car Hudson tube train, bound for Jersey City, caught fire about 1,000 feet west of the Christopher street station in New York.

Many passengers were trampled in the fight to escape the train into the smoke-filled tube. Police and firemen and carried hundreds of the injured and smoke-dazed, with clothing torn from their bodies and faces blackened, through the dark to the emergency exits at Barrow street. Others limped along unassisted and collapsed when they reached the street. The accident occurred at 6:15 o'clock, the height of the rush hour.

The whole trainload of more than 500 passengers were trapped in the smoke-filled tube under the river for 45 minutes before they began the long march to the exit at Christopher street station, some dragging injured men and women along with them.

Men and Women Battle.

The train, bound for Hoboken, had gone about 500 feet from the station, passengers told police, when they saw litter and grease blazing in the middle of the tracks, just ahead of his car. The motorman ran over the fire, they said, and the next thing they knew the flames were sweeping under the part of the car and licking out toward the windows on either side.

The train then was entering the river tube. Several women screamed as the train began filling with the fumes of burning insulation and grease. This was the signal for a concentrated rush toward the rear cars.

Men and women alike clawed and pulled at each other and the weaker of the terrified passengers were mown down in the rush and trampled. Smoke rolled back through the cars and men began breaking windows to let in air.

The occupants of the rear cars made futile attempts to bar the rush of passengers from the flaming cars.

Collapse In Street.

The first 50 or more passengers to reach the Christopher street exit, clothing torn and faces blackened by smoke, collapsed in the street. The first police on the scene told of the seriousness of the accident, called ambulances at St. Vincent's, New York, and Broad Street Hospitals, two fire companies, the police, and emergency squads of the two stations.

Acting Deputy Chief Police Inspector Ralph Micali, early on the scene, sent reserves of the Beach street and Mercer street stations down into the smoke-filled tube to lead out the smoke-affected passengers or carry the injured to the station.

Police and firemen found 40 of the injured staggering along the tracks toward the station.

Four others, so seriously injured that it was feared they will die, had been

CONTINUED ON PAGE 9, COLUMN 1.

Poincare Cabinet Escapes Defeat by Only 6, Votes

Radicals Open Attack as Premier Is Ill; Court Bill Is Pretext.

Paris, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Premier Raymond Poincare by the small margin of 6 votes today saved his government from a sudden onslaught by the radicals who had quit him last November. The attack in the chamber of deputies came when the relatively innocent and harmless judiciary reform bill was called for discussion.

The French Parliament, giving corroboration to the old saying "while the cat is away the mice will play," apparently took advantage of the fact that the premier was confined to his room because of a slight attack of grippe. His place as leader was taken by Minister of Justice Barthou. The question was made a vote of confidence and the Poincare followers registered 391 to opposition 385.

The dissatisfaction in some quarters over the small amount of information coming from the room when the committee of experts discussing German reparations came up in the course of the debate. A communist deputy

Mussolini Thanks Crew Of America for Rescue

(Associated Press.) The rescue of the crew of the Italian freighter Florida by Capt. George Fried, of the America, was praised yesterday in a letter written to the Secretary of State at the request of Premier Mussolini. The communication, made public by the Shipping Board, read:

"His excellency, Signor Mussolini, has directed me to present to the American Government the expressions of the deep gratitude of the Italian government and of the Italian navy for the rescue of the S. S. Florida, which was achieved by the gallant men of the S. S. America.

"I take pleasure in transmitting to you these expressions which respond to the feeling of the whole nation and to which I most cordially associate myself. Accept, my dear Mr. Secretary, the assurances of my highest consideration.

"(Signed) G. DE MARTINO."

HOOVER TO DEMAND DRY LAW SHOWDOWN

Prosecutors to Be Told to Enforce Act or Resign; Borah May Direct Task.

OFFERED CABINET POST

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

President-elect Hoover, returning to Washington yesterday with a Florida tan and some very definite convictions, has one very strong message up his sleeve, to be delivered after his inauguration. It will be very blunt and to the point.

It will tell the countless prosecuting attorneys throughout the country to either enforce prohibition or get out. All of the wrangling about it year in and year out, increasing in force instead of diminishing, the drys on the one hand and the wet on the other—it has all begun to get on his nerves. Every time a prominent prohibitionist calls on him it is much talked about.

It is written and said that such calls are embarrassing. Probably the same would be said about wet callers, except that there are few of them, especially identified as such.

At any rate he has grown impatient with it all, with such political gestures as the proposal of Senator Harris, of Georgia, that $24,000,000 additional be provided for prohibition enforcement. And having come to this physical and mental state, he intends to act firmly.

His message to the prosecuting attorneys will be such as to instill fear in those who are wont to take their prohibition enforcement lightly and behind it will be the menacing picture of the man who crushed all that got in his way when he was after the Republican presidential nomination.

It is in connection with this first thrust that Senator Borah, of Idaho, has been offered the Attorney Generalship. While it is, of course, doubtful that the senator will leave his present place for this administrative task, to say that he will not do so would be to ignore the challenge that the offer is to him.

The senator is one of those who say that the law can be enforced. In offering him the job of enforcement Mr. Hoover in effect says, "All right; go ahead and enforce it," because Borah, as head of the Department of Justice, would have free rein.

If the President-elect can finally get an outstanding, capable dry for the place, there is but little doubt that he intends to place "it" prohibition activities under him, transferring the Treasury's part of it to the Justice Department.

Three alternates were named. They were George S. Wilson, director of public welfare; Melvin C. Hazen, supervisor of the District, and Albert L. Harris, municipal architect. The alternates will serve only if some unlooked for development, such as illness, prevents one of the first three men named to serve.

Opinion by Bridge Aids.

The action of the Commissioners naming a board of District officials to

CONTINUED ON PAGE 10, COLUMN 1.

Pilot Killed in Plane Crash; 2 Others Hurt

McNamee, Tex., Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Fred Sorrell, of Springfield, Mo., pilot, was killed today in an airplane crash at Irion, near here.

McNamee and Jacko also convicted of murder.

McNamee and Jacko were located in a stone quarry 5 miles north of Columbus. Deputy Sheriffs J. S. Crumley and Charles Williams effected the capture.

The men surrendered without resistance, being unarmed.

About 2 miles east of Columbus the convicts abandoned the car and fled.

Gardner yelled at them and they stopped, returning the keys to the car to him. He then notified police.

McNamee and Jacko would make no comment as to their escape earlier today. Search was continued tonight for the three men who escaped with them. James A. Walton, William Young and Joe Russo.

"The toughest prisoner in the penitentiary," was what the guards said of McNamee.

He didn't smile. His answers to all questions were gruff. He was hard.

From the minute of his surrender at Nanty Glo, Pa., to the last time he was seen in the penitentiary yesterday he was

CONTINUED ON PAGE 10, COLUMN 5.

Impeachment Plea Given to Assembly

Committee Says Accepted "Love Offering" of Aimee Semple McPherson

Implicates Judge.

Sacramento, Calif., Feb. 19 (U.P.)—Impeachment of Judge Carlos S. Hardy, of Los Angeles, for malfeasance in office was recommended tonight by a special assembly committee, which has spent several weeks investigating a $2,500 "love offering" Aimee Semple McPherson, noted evangelist, gave the jurist.

The proposed indictment of Judge Hardy next will be voted on by the assembly and, if passed, the senate will sit as a court to hear testimony against him.

All military commanders in Sonora were said to have received telegraphic instructions from Secretary of War Joaquin Maro, ordering 24-hour patrols on all railroad points and extra vigilance along the entire lines.

The drys of the country, who placed the senator on a very high pinnacle in the last campaign, would be disappointed.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 2, COLUMN 2.

C. F. Adams to Be Named in Cabinet, Paper Avers

Boston, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—The Boston Post tomorrow will say that it has learned upon excellent authority that Charles Francis Adams, descendant of two Presidents of the United States, treasurer of Harvard University and one of the country's best known yachting authorities, will be New England representative in the Cabinet of Herbert Hoover.

The Post says that while the portfolio which Mr. Adams will be invited to fill has not been definitely decided, it is understood that it likely will be that of Secretary of the Navy.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 10, COLUMN 6.

CAPTAIN FACES TRIAL ON NOTES ONLY SATURDAY

Burlingame Is Accused of Conduct Unbecoming an Officer.

CHARGES ARE BASED ON AVOWALS OF LOVE

Should the Palmist Appear, Seriousness Would Be Increased.

Trial of Capt. Guy E. Burlingame, suspended commander of the Second Police Precinct, yesterday was fixed for 10 o'clock Saturday morning in the Sixth Police Precinct Station. Burlingame will be called upon to defend himself against charges of conduct prejudicial to the reputation, good order and discipline of the police force and with conduct unbecoming an officer.

These charges are based upon letters which the suspended police captain is said to have written to Mrs. Helen F. Blalock, Seventh street palmist and erstwhile friend of the police captain, in the course of which he used such terms as "Heartless Daddy."

Burlingame will not be called upon to face charges of graft or other improper actions.

McQuade Serves Papers.

Under the charges against him the most Burlingame can be convicted of is that he, a married man, wrote silly love letters to a woman other than his wife.

The formal charges were served upon Burlingame by Lieut. James D. McQuade at Burlingame's home at 1419 Twenty-second street northwest at 7:30 o'clock last night.

The trial is due to begin at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in the usual Police Trial Board rooms on the third floor of the Sixth Precinct police station, on New Jersey avenue between D and E streets northwest.

Whether Mrs. Blalock will appear still is problematical. If she does come out of hiding and is willing to testify, the whole aspect of the proceedings may be changed and, based on her testimony, more serious charges may be preferred against the accused police captain.

Burlingame will be tried by a special Police Trial Board composed of Maj. Donald A. Davison, Assistant Engineer Commissioner, chairman; Dr. Edgar A. Bocock, superintendent of Gallingen Hospital, and William P. Richards, district assessor.

Three alternates were named. They were George S. Wilson, director of public welfare; Melvin C. Hazen, supervisor of the District, and Albert L. Harris, municipal architect. The alternates will serve only if some unlooked for development, such as illness, prevents one of the first three men named to serve.

Opinion by Bridge Aids.

The action of the Commissioners naming a board of District officials to

CONTINUED ON PAGE 10, COLUMN 1.

U. S.-Mexico Move To Preserve Order

Committee Says Accepted "Love Offering" of Aimee Semple McPherson

Implicates Judge.

Overman, Pittman, Sheppard, Simmons
Smith, Steck, Stephens, Swanson
Thomas, of Oklahoma: Trammell, Tyson, Walsh, of Montana—29.
Total—65.

Against the bill:

Republicans: Bingham, Blaine, Blaine,
Glenn, Gould, Phillips—5.

Democrats: Bayard, Brouard,
Bruce, Copeland, Edwards, Gerry,
Hawes, Randall, Reed, of Missouri;
Tydings, Wagner, Walsh, of Massachusetts; Wheeler—13.

Total—18.

Roll Call on Amendment.

Senator Bingham's amendment on saint offenders brought the following
roll call:

For the amendment:

Republicans: Bingham, Blaine, Blaine,
Glenn, Gould, Phillips—5.

Democrats: Bayard, Brouard,
Bruce, Copeland, Edwards, Gerry,
Hawes, Randall, Reed, of Missouri;
Tydings, Wagner, Walsh, of Massachusetts; Wheeler—13.

Total—18.

Against the bill:

Republicans: Bingham, Blaine, Blaine,
Glenn, Gould, Phillips—5.

Democrats: Bayard, Brouard, Bruce,
Copeland, Edwards, Gerry, Hawes, Pittman, Randall, Reed of Missouri, Tydings, Wagner, Walsh, of Massachusetts; Wheeler—13.

Total—18.

Roll Call on Amendment.

Senator Bingham's amendment on saint offenders brought the following
roll call:

For the amendment:

Republicans: Bingham, Blaine, Blaine,
Glenn, Gould, Phillips—5.

Democrats: Bayard, Brouard, Bruce,
Copeland, Edwards, Gerry, Hawes, Pitt-
man, Randall, Reed of Missouri, Ty-
dings, Wagner, Walsh, of Massachusetts; Wheeler—13.

Total—18.

Against the amendment:

Republicans: Bingham, Blaine, Blaine,
Glenn, Gould, Phillips—5.

Democrats: Bayard, Brouard, Bruce,
Copeland, Edwards, Gerry, Hawes, Pitt-
man, Randall, Reed of Missouri, Ty-
dings, Wagner, Walsh, of Massachusetts; Wheeler—13.

Total—18.

Amendment by Senator Blaine to make the penalty provide specifically in cases where sale was involved was beaten 61-21.

Bruce's Bill.

As 8:15, just prior to the final vote, Senator Bruce of Maryland, arose and said:

"I wish to pronounce a curse on this bill with my last dying breath. It makes no attempt to draw any distinction between first and subsequent offenders or between major or minor offenses."

Not one girl in 10,000 in the Government service here in Washington is in danger of being compelled to marry a Brookhart (Republican) of Iowa declared in the Senate yesterday. There are any girls here who grieve, he said, they will be found in "high society."

The Iowa senator defended the Government girls after reading from a local newspaper at the time the Senate was considering the Jones bill to increase the penalties for liquor violations.

"Right here in the City of Washington," Brookhart said, "the trouble is that the law is being violated by those in high society."

F. W. Bradley Elected Engineers' President

New York, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Election of Frederick W. Bradley, of San Francisco, to the presidency of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and Electrical Engineers was announced at the institute's annual convention today.

He succeeds George Odis Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey.

Man Ends Life After Paying Hospital Bill

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 19 (U.P.)—After paying his hospital bill, Robert E.
Howard, 60, manager of an automobile agency, committed suicide at the University Sanitarium today by firing a revolver bullet into his head.

Howard's home was in New York State.

Puzzled Jury Frees Man on Rum Charge

Government Witness Says 'Wife and Child Are Well,'

Acquittal Follows.

A Police Court jury acquitted Morris Eskow, of 1822 Lamont street northwest, of transporting and possessing liquor charges yesterday. Eskow was arrested after a 10-mile chase at Silver Springs, Md., by James E. Little, flying squadron. The police testified a quantity of liquor was found in Eskow's car.

Dr. Albert A. Spear, Government chemist, testified Eskow had no liquor and found it intoxicating. Harry
T. Whelan, defense attorney, then conducted a one-question cross-examination, which puzzled the jury.

"They're getting along fine, thank you," responded Spear, with a proud smile.

It was later revealed that the chemist brought the father of a 7½-pound baby boy on Sunday.

Cleaning Shirts Today!

Madras,
Broadcloth

Shirts

that were $2.50 & $3

$1.63

Collar Attached!

Separate Collars!

White!

Striped!

Figured!

Meyer's Shop

1331 F Street

U. S. FILES 218 SUITS FOR BOOTLEG TAXES

Detroit Distilleries and Brewery Men Must Fulfil Exercise Requirements.

JAIL TERM FOR NEGLECT

Detroit, Feb. 19 (N.Y.W.N.S.)—The Federal Government hurled a broad-side at Detroit bootleggers today with an announcement that the revenue act providing a fine or imprisonment for failure to pay the excise tax will be enforced.

Suits against 218 bootleggers were filed by Charles B. W. Aldrich, assistant United States district attorney.

Under the terms of the internal revenue act these men face the paying of an excise tax of $1,000, a penalty of $1,000 for failure to pay this tax, a one-year term in prison and the payment of court costs which will total $1,000. The maximum fine is $1,000 and the prison term, Federal authorities believe, will be a blow to many of the illegal distillers and brewers and will result in many of them going out of business.

This procedure has been tried in isolated instances heretofore, according to District Attorney John R. Watkins, but never on the scale begun today.

Approximately 1,000 persons convicted of similar infractions or neglecting to file these penalties and will be haled into court as soon as possible.

Aldrich announced that the 218 suits launched today should net the Government about $447,407. Of this amount, he said, about $111,000 will be taken from Detroiters and the rest from persons in this Federal district.

Underwood & Underwood

President-elect Herbert Hoover returns to Washington for his inauguration. Left to right—Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee; Mrs. Edgar Richard, of New York, a Hoover friend; Mrs. Hoover, and the President-elect.

PRESIDENT-ELECT AND MRS. HOOVER RETURN

ALL KINDS OF JOBS OFFERED COOLIDGE

Most Acceptable Are Held to Be Proposals That He Write for Syndicates.

NO DECISION IS DUE NOW

(Associated Press)

President Coolidge continues to receive numerous proposals and suggestions for an occupation after his retirement from office, but he as yet has made no definite decision as to what he will do. He talks with propositions to offer that he is not in a position to give them a positive answer until after March 4.

The most recent proposal to reach the President is that he write syndicated articles for newspapers and magazines. Rumors that Mr. Coolidge was receiving offers of this kind have been given circulation within the last fortnight, based upon the fact that he had been visited by representatives in half a dozen organizations engaged in this field.

Upon leaving the White House these representatives, however, consistently declined to reveal their names and anonymity was known definitely to yesterday that their purpose "was to interest Mr. Coolidge in writing as a future activity.

At the same time, it was learned that the President regards this work as an exceptionally fine field, but hesitates to bind himself to the production of articles in specified numbers and at specified times.

After he retires from the Presidency,
Mr. Coolidge expects to write an occasional article dealing with his experiences in public office and with reminiscences of notable occasions, but he prefers that these be undertaken by his friends and completed when he feels fit, with no thought for newspaper "deadlines."

For some months, Mr. Coolidge has declined to make any announcement as to what his plans do after he leaves office, but it has been said that he will reach no decision until some time after March 4.

The President believes that as Chief Executive of the Nation he would be unjustified in entering into an alliance with any outside interest as long as he is in office.

Two Youths Die in Chair For Chicago Police Death

Chicago, Feb. 20 (A.P.)—(Wednesday—
Anthony Greco and Charles Walz, youths in their teens, were out in the country till shortly after midnight today for the murder of a polorman.

The youths were the first lives exacted
by the electric chair in Cook County.

Representative King Buried at Galesburg

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 19 (U.P.)—Funeral services were held here today for Representative E. J. King, of the Fifteenth Illinois District, who died suddenly in Washington last Sunday.

A congressional committee accompanied the body to Galesburg and served as an escort of honor at the services.

Planner Outlines Capital of Future

Kalorama Citizens Hear of Overhead Highways to Speed Traffic.

Casting light on what the Washington of the future may be like, Charles Elliot, city planner and a member of the zoning commission, told the Kalorama Citizens Association at a meeting last night in St. Margaret's Parish of encountered in planning the city regardless of the careful way in which it was originally planned by L'Enfant

Plans are now being formulated. Mr.
Elliot told the association, by which all through highway traffic will be directed, and speeded up.

He also told of the new overhead highway methods that are to be put into use on the new Mount Vernon and Lee highways.

Mr. Elliot illustrated his lecture with lauter slides.

Paris to China Air Race Ends When Costes Crashes

Premature Start Blamed for Fall; Le Brix Is Nearing Persia.

Paris, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Dieudonne Costes, starting out today in pursuit of his former comrade but present rival, Joseph Le Brix, on an intended flight to Indo-China, crashed in Brix Field
a few miles from Paris. Persia.

The start between Costes and Le Brix was delayed because of the bad weather in Paris. The two had been flying over the Atlantic Ocean when they reached the South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over Soyapoca and up through Mexico to the United States.

Le Brix took off yesterday in a plane called the Marseilles-Indo-China. He had been flying over the Atlantic Ocean when he reached the South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil, and then had turned their way over the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

Costes had been flying over the
South Atlantic to Port Natal, Brazil,
and then had turned their way over
the Atlantic Ocean to the United States.

BILLS BACKING PACT AGAINST WAR DEAD

Other Action at This Session on Porter or Capper Plans for Embargo Unlikely.

FORMER PROJECT TABLED

Tabling yesterday of the Porter resolution, pending to place an embargo on arms in the event of a disturbance between two countries, at the discretion of the President, but both to be treated alike, ends any action in this session of Congress to put "teeth" in the Kellogg Peace Pact.

The Porter resolution had the tacit approval of the Secretary of State. With the Capper resolution out of the way, the Capper resolution of the Senate is to stand upon its dead, although efforts to revive either may be made in the next session.

Difference in Measures.

The Capper resolution and that of Massachusetts, who is awaiting the Senate's confirmation of his appointment to the Federal Radio Commission.

FATE IN SENATE

WATSON RADIO BILL TAKEN UP IN SENATE

Copeland Accused of Filibuster Against Act to Prolong Commission.

HIGH CHARGES ATTACKED

The Senate convened last night to take up the Watson bill to continue the life of the Federal Radio Commission as an administrative body for another year.

A similar measure, sponsored by Representative White (Republican), Maine, was passed late yesterday by the House.

Opening the debate, Senator Watson (Republican), Indiana, the bill's author in the Senate, declared the best judgment of those who have studied the question was that the commission should be continued so it might complete the preliminary work of organizing the radio broadcasters before it was turned over to the Department of Commerce.

BILL SEES RATES REGULATED.

He explained that unless the pending bill is passed, the Federal Radio Commission will go out of existence as an administrative body on June 20 and there would then exist only an ineffectual court with the Department of Commerce forced to take over the administration work.

Senator Dill (Democrat), of Washington, who had been identified with the bill, said: "It is the intention of the Senate to let the peace pact stand as it is."

In its presentation to the Senate, it had been represented that the Kellogg-Peace Pact, recently ratified by the Senate on the part of civilization to avoid war, translated into an agreement, and that it was to be without sanctions for its enforcement.

Bergman, Russian Hero Of World War, Is Dead

Marseille, France, Feb. 19 (U.P.)—Marshal George Edward Bergman, Russian World War leader and refugee, died here tonight. He was known as the "hero of Erzerum" because of the defeat of the Turks in the Turkish army on the Armenian front at the beginning of the World War.

The funeral will be at Nice, where the exiled leader's body will rest beside other former dignitaries of the old Russian Empire.

GIANT RAIL MERGER PLANNED BY B. & O.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

Planning the investment of the Baltimore & Ohio system, less than $1,000,000,000 to well over $2,000,000,000. This step of the Baltimore & Ohio precipitates the long-threatened fight for rail supremacy in the East and brings concretely into public view the long-cherished ambition of virtually all of the railroad trackage in the northeastern quarter of the United States into four gigantic systems. It was said that failure to arrive at any agreement with the powerful New York Central and Pennsylvania systems had caused the Baltimore & Ohio and the Van Sweringen group to approach the Interstate Commerce Commission directly.

In the proposal it is maintained that the proposed Baltimore & Ohio system, if approved by the commission, would be able to compete on even terms with the New York Central, the Pennsylvania or the Van Sweringen group. The petition further states that putting into effect the four-system consolidation would result in serving the Eastern section of the United States, exclusive of New England, with four great trunk systems, all approximately equal in size, all having access to principal ports and cities, and all capable of maintaining just competition.

Seeks Control of Reading.

The B. & O. application asks the commission for the following: Control of the New York Central Co. and its affiliated lines, including the Central Railroad of New Jersey; of the Lehigh & Hudson River Railroad, the Western Maryland, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh Railway, the Buffalo & Susquehanna, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, the Erie, the Duluth, the Toledo & Ironton Railroad, the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville Railway, the Wabash Railway and the Ann Arbor Railroad.

The B. & O. following carriers it asks for not less than a one-fourth interest and joint control with the Pennsylvania, New York Central and Chesapeake & Ohio, the Lehigh & New England Railway, Monon Railroad, the Pittsburgh, C. & Y. and the New Haven Railroad and the Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railroad east of the Ohio River.

Lastly, the Baltimore & Ohio applies for joint control, along with the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, of the Detroit & Toledo Shore Line Railroad.

In addition to the line from Chicago to New York, the Baltimore & Ohio asks the Interstate Commerce Commission for trackage over the Pennsylvania line for a distance of 80 miles, or, as an alternative, trackage over the Pennsylvania for 60 miles, combined with trackage over the New York Central lines for 18 miles.

The petition points out that the Baltimore & Ohio reaches Chicago and St. Louis and its neighboring lines of Philadelphia under its own rails, but has no access of its own into New York, being dependent upon the favor of the Reading and the Central of New Jersey.

A Raw, Sore Throat

Heals quickly when you apply a little Musterole. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, lessens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Musterole brings quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chills, blains, frosty feet, colds on the chest.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Jars & Tubes CHILDREN'S MUSTEROLE

NEW TRIUMPH WON BY ROSA PONSELLE

Soprano Gives the Second of Delightful Recitals in Nation's Capital.

HER ART OF WIDE RANGE

The glorious voice of Ross Ponselle, dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, who has been identified with the arts of the stage for the second time in Washington this season yesterday at the Folger Theater under the management of Mrs. Wilson-Green.

Mrs. Ponselle has been a favorite in Washington since the beginning of her career, covering ten years of phenomenal successes from her first appearance with Caruso at the Metropolitan Opera House in 1918. Each number she sang yesterday was an indication of the wide range of her vocal equipment and was called back time and again for encores.

There is no mistaking the fact that she is one of the leading voices of the world. Its artistic effects, beauty of phrasing and emotional qualities are certain trademarks and that "on one occasion a prohibitive charge kept a certain candidate from the air." He did not name the candidate or the broadcast. He added that "some stations charge enormous prices."

Charges of filibustering the measure were made against Senator Copeland (Democrat), New York, when he started a long speech in opposition to its proposal.

DENIED BY NEW YORKER.

The charge was made by Senator Wheeler (Democrat), Montana, but was hotly denied by the New Yorker, who said testimony taken in the Senate interstate commerce committee on the bill and was asked by Wheeler why he did not read the House committee testimony.

"One may do that at some other session," Copeland replied. "Now, why doesn't the senator come out frank and say the senator is not trying to enlighten the Senate but just trying to filibuster?"

Copeland had not gotten to the point of his speech where his reason for opposing the bill had been stated. He started out with a long explanation of his own radio broadcasting activities, and when the Senate he was not opposing the bill because of any such connection.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snowstorm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

Moscow, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A snow-

storm has buried the Crimea 16 feet deep. Railroad service has been disrupted.

SNOWSTORM BURIES CRIMEA.

FUNERAL SET TODAY FOR W. F. ROBERTS

Services to be Held at All Souls' Unitarian Church This Afternoon.

LIFELONG RESIDENT HERE

Funeral services for W. F. Roberts, 73 years old, who began his career in Washington as a messenger boy with the Western Union Telegraph Co. and ended it as proprietor of the W. F. Roberts Co., 1514 H street, who died Monday, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at All Souls' Unitarian Church. The Rev. Dr. U. G. B. Pierce, pastor of the church, will officiate. The services will be private in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Mr. Roberts was stricken with pneumonia last November. He suffered a similar attack about two years ago, but recuperated.

Born in this city on July 14, 1856, Mr. Roberts attended the public schools and worked as a messenger boy before learning the printing trade with R. Beresford. He organized the Law Reporter Printing Co. and also Goss & Roberts. In 1881 he founded the W. F. Roberts Co. and continued as its active head until his death.

Early in life Mr. Roberts became interested in sports. For several years he was president of the District of Columbia and Virginia, under the colors of the Potomac Boat Club. He was one of the early members of the Capital Bicycle Club, also the organization for which he was president of the Belmont Bay Club.

Mr. Roberts was also a member of the Rotary, Washington Golf and Country, Tenuus and Alfalfa clubs. He was a member of the following fraternal organizations: Knights of Columbus, Knights of Pythias Chapter No. 3; Washington Commandery No. 1; Almas Temple A. O. N. M. S.; Scottish Rite and St. Simeon Stylites.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Catherine Roberts, a daughter, Mrs. Thomas F. Scott, a son, Bertrand H. Roberts and a sister, Miss Mamie Roberts, all of this city.

FUNERAL OF C. MORRISON.

Father of A. F. of L. Official Dies at Home in Canada of Influenza.

Frank Morrison, executive secretary of the American Federation of Labor, was on his way from Miami, Fla., to Washington. On arrival yesterday to attend the funeral of his father, Christopher Morrison, 95 years old, who died Monday night.

According to information received at the A. F. of L. headquarters here, the elder Mr. Morrison died of influenza. Besides the son in Washington, Mr. Morrison is survived by two other sons, both of them printers on a Chicago newspaper.

SERVICES FOR J. W. GREGG.

Well-known Dairymen Will Be Buried in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Funeral services for John W. Gregg, well-known Washington dairymen who died yesterday in his eightieth seventh year, will be held at 2 o'clock today at the S. H. Hines Co. funeral parlors, 2901 Fourteenth street northwest. Burial will be in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Mr. Gregg started in the dairy business in Washington in 1875. At the time of his death he was president of the National Dairy Co. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Charlotte A. Gregg, and a son, Wallace E. Gregg.

HENRY R. JONES' FUNERAL.

Services for Former Managing Editor of The Post Will Be Held Tomorrow.

Funeral services for Henry R. Jones, former managing editor of The Washington Post, who died at the Garfield Hospital Monday, will be held at the W. W. Chambers funeral home, Fourteenth and Chapin streets, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the Rev. G. E. Lovelock officiating.

Burial will be at Longview, Colo., the home of Mr. Jones' only survivor, a brother, George Jones, who was with him during the last days of an illness that ended in his death.

Liberty for Convict As Aid to Nominee

Witness Says Gov. Johnston of Oklahoma Freed Man as Political Act.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Testimony that Gov. John S. Johnston, suspended governor, granted clemency to a man convicted of a statutory crime as a favor to State Representative D. A. Stovall, of Choctaw County, who supported his administration, was presented today in Johnston's trial before the State Senate court of impeachment.

It was one of the few bits of evidence connecting Johnston directly with acts which resulted in the voting of impeachment charges by the house of representatives.

Wayne Wheeling, Fort Towson attorney, testified that Johnston, on a visit at Hugo, signed an order granting a let of absence to Chas. Collins, who was in jail awaiting commitment to the State penitentiary to serve a sentence. Wheeling said the governor commented he was granting the leave as a favor to Stovall and called upon a group of persons who were present to support Stovall's candidacy for the legislature.

THE CORRECT USE OF WORDS

Important to Every Individual

A man is rated by the words he uses. The possession of an ample and correct vocabulary often means the difference between success and failure. And, more trite you can have the latest and most desirable list of words, the New World Dictionary Based on the Original Webster. Entirely New.

The Dictionary is printed on high-grade paper. Three coupons clipped on consecutive days is required to obtain this superior volume at a nominal rate. Mail orders will be filled when postage is added as explained in the coupon.

SUNDAY EXCURSIONS

$3.50 Philadelphia

$3.25 Chester

$3.00 Wilmington

AND RETURN

SUNDAYS, FEBRUARY 10, 1929

SPECIAL TRAIN

LEAVES WASHINGTON 7:30 A. M.

ARRIVES CHESTER 8:40 A. M.

ARRIVES WILMINGTON 8:05 P. M.

ARRIVES PHILADELPHIA 9:25 P. M.

SUNDAY EXCURSIONS

MARCH 10, APRIL 7, 1929

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

HITS HOOVER KIN

ROTARIANS' POLICY EXPLAINED TO POPE

President I. D. Sutton Believed to Have Had Ban on Clergy Joining, Removed.

PRELATE'S LETTERS AID

Vatican City, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—International Rotary is about to be given a clean bill of health by the authorities of the Holy See. Reliably informed circles of the Vatican tonight said this reversal of a former ruling was due largely to the favorable impression created by I. D. Sutton, of Tampico, Mexico, who is president of the international organization.

Mr. Sutton came here in the face of a ruling against rotary by the consistane congregation that the priests and the priesthood would not be allowed to join.

Formerly, the Pope issued a passport to all his own nuncios, apostolic delegates and other official visitors to foreign lands, and the world powers accepted these on the same basis as they recognized diplomatic passports.

President I. D. Sutton, a Catholic, interviewed a number of princes of the church and convinced them that the organization respected all creeds. He also told them that at least 350 prominent laymen and clergymen of the church were active Rotarians in the United States and the fact that one particularly prominent layman had been a member of a certain Rotary Club in Indiana for twelve years was emphasized.

The task of the international president was lightened by the fact that he understood Italian, and, after 25 years of residence in Mexico, speaks excellent Spanish.

Washington Letters Help.

Another aid came to him, it was understood, in the form of letters from the National Catholic Welfare Conference at Washington. Then, too, certain prelates who knew conditions in the United States at first hand seconded his efforts in some quarters.

The letters were well received and ended with having advised the certain authorities in the Vatican that the recent growth of rotary in Italy would be turned into an "Americanization movement" and lead to Protestant propaganda.

On a similar ratio the Vatican City might be entitled to send one-fifth of an emigrant to America each twelve months, or about one adult every four years.

The newspaper Giornale d'Italia today said that the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

Pope's New Pact Tangles Emigrants, Visas and Cars

Restoration of Sovereignty to Pope Presents Problems for International Authorities to Decide; Vatican Autos Must Be Remarked.

Rome, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Restoration of sovereignty to the Pope by the 1929 pact with Italy has given rise to discussion of several technical legal points which may engage international authority. Already these have included the use of Vatican automobiles, passports and the possibility of an emigration to the United States.

Formerly, the Pope issued a passport to all his own nuncios, apostolic delegates and other official visitors to foreign lands, and the world powers accepted these on the same basis as they recognized diplomatic passports.

It is any of these desire to travel abroad, they will need passports, but it is expected that these documents will be recognized as valid as soon as the other powers have given formal recognition to the new state of affairs.

It has been remarked, in connection with the question, that the United States, which is Italian, must be remarked, but should any one extremely desirous of going to America obtain employment for a time, he might well apply for a visa under the Vatican City.

It was reported today that the little kingdom of San Marino has the right to send one and one-half citizens yearly to the United States, or three every two years.

On a similar ratio the Vatican City might be entitled to send one-fifth of an emigrant to America each twelve months, or about one adult every four years.

The newspaper Giornale d'Italia today said that the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

the Pope might have for his special train the same outfit that

WOODWARD & LOTHROP 49th ANNIVERSARY

Begins This Morning

The Anniversary Selling is the one and only store-wide event of the entire year in the Woodward & Lothrop Store. The 49th Anniversary offers hundreds of items, all of them new, many that have proven the best selling items of the season—now marked at the lowest possible prices. The savings are very exceptional.

THE MEN'S STORE—Second Floor

Men's New Two-Trousers Suits, $31

Men's New Spring Topcoats, $27.50

Specially Priced in the Anniversary Selling

Two-Trousers Suits, special, $31. Tailored from cashmeres, cheviots and serges, in new colors and patterns. The new models for young men, also conservative effects in two and three button models. All sizes.

Medium and Lightweight Topcoats, special, $27.50. In gray and tan mixtures, self-patterns and plain grays. Easy fitting box models; shower-proofed for greater utility.

THE MEN'S STORE, SECOND FLOOR

Foreign Fabric Suits

Special $46

Designed and tailored to our exacting English Shop standard, of our own imported English woolens, in new and exclusive patterns, as well as plain blues and grays.

THE ENGLISH SHOP, SECOND FLOOR

Men's White Broadcloth Shirts, $1.95

Specially Priced in Anniversary Selling

Madras and Percale Shirts

Special $1.95

Imported Silk Neckwear

Special $1.65

Handmade Silk Neckwear

Special 95c

Soft Felt Spring Hats

Special $3.35

THE MEN'S STORE, SECOND FLOOR

Full-Fashioned Silk Socks

Special 75c pair

Fancy Silk and Lisle Socks

Special 75c pair

All-Wool Imported

Golf Hose

Special $2.85 pair

All-Wool Slip-on Sweaters

Special $3.95

Broadcloth Union Suits

Special $1.15

Rayon Union Suits

Special $1.65

Cotton Pongee Pajamas

Special $2.25

Genuine Pigskin Belts

Special $1.85

Men's Arnold Glove Grip Oxfords Special $7.65

In the Anniversary Selling

The Beverly: a straight-tip Blucher Oxford, in tan and black calfskin. Leather sole, rubber heel, combination last.

The Olympic: a straight-tip, straight lace Oxford, in tan and black calfskin. Medium toe, combination last.

The Combination: a straight-tip Blucher Oxford in tan Madrid kid. Leather sole, rubber heel.

The Panama: a straight-tip Blucher Oxford, in black genuine glazed kangaroo. Combination last, leather sole and rubber heel.

THE MEN'S STORE, SECOND FLOOR

Sporting Goods

Anniversary Priced

Fair Fly Golf Balls

Special 3 for $1

Matched Sets Golf Clubs

and Bag

Special $35

SPORTING GOODS, FOURTH FLOOR

Men's Strap Watches

Special in Anniversary

Men's Elgin Strap Watches, 7-jewel style, chromium case, Special $12.50

Men's Elgin Strap Watches, 15-jewel movement; gold-filled case, Special $18.75

FINE JEWELRY, FIRST FLOOR

These Outstanding Silk Values Offered in the Anniversary Selling

Belding's Pure Dye Georgette, in white, black and colors.

Special $1.95 yard

Washable Crepe de Chine, a pure dye, non-shrinkable quality.

Special $1.65 yard

Crepe Meteor, Special $1.95 yard

Printed Georgette, Special $1.65 yard

Silk Broadcloth, Special $1.15 yard

Imported Chinese Honan, Special $1 yard

Tub Silks, Special $1.25 yard

Belding's Crepe Iris, Special $1.95 yard

Flat Crepe, Special $1.95 yard

Fine Quality Satin Crepe, Special $1.95 yard

Satin Crepe, Special $2.45 yard

Printed Foulard, Special $1.65 yard

Printed Crepe, in new, wanted designs.

Special $1.65 yard

Printed Georgette Crepe, new colors.

Special $1.65 yard

Printed Chiffon and Voile,

Special $1.95 yard

SILKS, SECOND FLOOR

Wool Dress Goods

Anniversary Priced

Tweed Pin-Head Checks, in two-tone colorings. 54 inches wide. Special, $2.10 yard.

Checked Georgette Crepe, in six new Spring colors. 54 inches wide. Special, $2.10 yard.

Homespun Coatings, in five new Spring shades. 54 inches wide. Special, $2.25 yard.

WOOL DRESS GOODS, SECOND FLOOR

Dress Linens, Cottons, Linings

At Anniversary Savings

Printed Rayon Voiles, smart patterns in all-over designs.

Special 80c yard. 36 inches wide.

Celanese and Cotton Prints, in a variety of new designs.

Special 75c yard. 36 inches wide.

Printed Zephyrs, in new prints and chintz designs.

Special 28c yard. 32 inches wide.

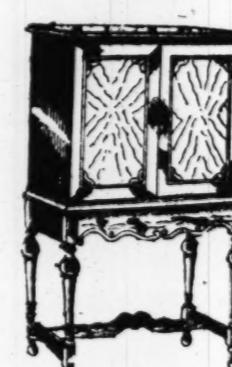

Delcourt French White Linen, a high-grade quality.

Special 80c yard. 44 inches wide.

Sunshine Rayon (rayon and cotton fabric), 15 shades.

Special 38c yard. 36 inches wide.

DRESS GOODS AND LININGS, SECOND FLOOR

No. 40 Atwater Kent Electric Radio in Cabinet

Complete with tubes $123.50

Only such a time as Anniversary, when value-giving is at its very peak, is such a value possible. The new Atwater Kent No. 40, enclosed in a beautiful high-boy cabinet, with built-in 100-A R. C. A. speaker. Complete with tubes.

Convenient Terms

RADIO GALLERIES, FOURTH FLOOR

SuperDefiance

Size Tires Tubes

29x4.40-21 $9 $1.30

30x4.50-21 $9.40 $1.40

29x4.00-19 $11.20 $1.60

30x3.00-20 $11.70 $1.65

28x4.75-19 $11.75 $1.75

29x4.75-20 $12.10 $1.75

30x4.75-21 $12.30 $1.85

29x4.00-19 $12.35 $1.95

30x3.25-20 $13 $2.05

31x4.25-21 $13.20 $2.10

29x3.30-19 $13.30 $2.20

30x3.50-20 $13.45 $2.25

30x4.10-20 $13.40 $2.25

31x4.10-19 $13.50 $2.30

32x4.10-19 $13.75 $2.55

31x4.10-18 $13.70 $2.55

30x4.10-20 $13.65 $2.55

31x4.10-18 $13.60 $2.55

32x4.00-20 $13.60 $2.55

31x4.00-21 $13.65 $2.60

32x4.25-19 $13.75 $2.60

31x4.25-20 $13.80 $2.65

32x4.25-21 $13.85 $2.70

31x4.00-19 $13.60 $2.60

32x4.00-20 $13.70 $2.70

31x4.00-21 $13.75 $2.70

Defiance Balloons

Size Tires Tubes

29x4.40-21 $1.35 $1.05

30x4.50-21 $1.40 $1.10

31x4.60-21 $1.45 $1.20

32x4.75-21 $1.50 $1.25

33x4.90-21 $1.55 $1.35

34x5.05-21 $1.60 $1.45

35x5.20-21 $1.65 $1.55

36x5.35-21 $1.70 $1.65

37x5.50-21 $1.75 $1.75

38x5.65-21 $1.80 $1.85

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES OF CAPITAL

THE President and Mrs. Coolidge were the guests in whose honor the Secretary of Labor and Mrs. James J. Davis will entertain at dinner last evening. The other guests were the Minister of Hungary and Countess Szeghely, Senator Samuel M. Shortridge, Representative and Mrs. Clyde Kelly, Representative and Mrs. Albert H. Vesey, Assistant Secretary of Labor and Mrs. W. W. Husband, the Director General of the Pan-American Union, Dr. Leo S. Rowe; Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Richardson, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Doak, Dr. George Meany and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis, of Detroit, brother and sister-in-law of the Secretary of Labor. The Secretary of Labor and Mrs. James J. Davis will entertain at dinner again this evening.

Mrs. Coolidge will receive the out-of-town delegates to the regional conference of the Association of Junior Leagues of America this morning at 12 o'clock.

The Vice President and Mrs. Charles H. Dawes are the guests in whose honor Senator and Mrs. Jess H. Metcalf will entertain at dinner next Monday evening.

The Vice President and Mrs. Dawes were the guests in whose honor the Cuban Ambassador and Senora de Fernández, the Ambassador of Chile, the Ambassador of Peru, Dr. Hernan Velarde; the Ambassador of Japan and Mme. Debuichi, the Minister of Finland, Mr. L. Aström; the Minister of Austria and Mme. Prokoch, the Minister of Egypt and Mme. Sultana, the Representative and Mrs. Fred A. Britton, Representative and Mrs. Hamilton Fish, Jr., Chief of Staff Charles F. Sumner; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Norment, Commander Alfred L. Boffi; Mrs. Alvin Biddle; Mr. and Mrs. George C. Moore; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denegre; Miss Helen Patten, Miss Meta Evans, Miss Elodia Martin Rivero, the First Secretary of the Cuban Embassy and Senora de Baron and the Second Secretary of the Cuban Embassy and Senora de Guell.

The Cuban Ambassador, Senor Don Cesario Ferrara, was the ranking guest at a luncheon given yesterday at the Mayflower by the Cuban Government, Cuban delegate to the Pan-American Trade-Mark Conference. Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. James Bond Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Rogers, Mrs. Fred Purnell, Dr. and Mrs. William F. Scott, Mr. Benjamin Cohen, Commander Alfred Boffi, Mr. Raul Vianello and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Robertson.

French Ambassador Guest Of Minister of Siam.

The French Ambassador and Mme. Claudel were the guests in whose honor the retiring Minister of Siam, Lieut. Gen. Phya Vittavong, entertained at dinner last evening. The other guests were Dr. Joseph H. Bryan, Miss Bryan, Col. and Mrs. Osman Latrope, Capt. and Mrs. Frank B. Freyer, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Healy, Mr. and Mrs. George Fitch Wells, Dr. and Mrs. Fenster Braden, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Biddle, Milton, Miss Celeste Crosby, Miss Virginia Russell and Mr. Luang Chara, Third Secretary of the Siamese Legation.

After the dinner, the following additional guests came for dancing: Mrs. D. S. Fronheiser, Miss E. S. Zimmerman, of Baltimore; Miss Muriel Fritz, Miss R. M. Graham, Miss Jessie Bunn, Mr. Seymour McConnell, Mrs. Florence Atwood, Dr. B. A. Luang Deva, Mr. and Mrs. Secretary of the Siamese Legation; Mr. Na Wong Sutewalekha, Attaché of the Siamese Legation; Lieut. Col. Phra Amara, of the Siamese Air Corps, and Maj. Luang Deves, of the Siamese Air Corps.

The Ambassador of Germany and Frau von Prittwitz and Gaffron were the ranking guests at the dinner given last evening by the Minister of Greece and Mme. Simopoulos. The other guests were Senator and Mrs. Charles S. Denegre, Senator and Mrs. Guy Despard Goff, the Counselor of the Hungarian Legation and Mme. Plenely, Mr. and Mrs. Breckenridge Long, the Naval Attaché of the Italian Embassy and Sig. Gali, Miss Bell Gurnee and Mr. Angelo Annino, Counselor of the Greek Legation.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg are the guests in whose honor the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Andrew W. Mellon, will entertain at dinner on February 28.

The Chinese Minister and Mme. See are the guests in whose honor Mrs. William Fitch Kiley will entertain at dinner tonight.

Mme. See, wife of the Chinese Minister, will be the guest in whose honor Mrs. Goodloe Falconer will entertain at luncheon today, following the second of Dr. Louis K. Anspacher's talks on Russian literature at the Willard.

Mme. Bostrom, wife of the Minister of Sweden, will receive Friday afternoon from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock.

Speaker and Mrs. Longsworth Congressional Club Guests.

The Speaker of the House and Mrs. Curtis D. Wilbur were the honor guests at a dinner given by Representative and Mrs. William E. Evans at the Willard last evening. The other guests were Mr. Peter Goelz Gerry, president of the club; Mrs. Alben Barkley, Mrs. Weston Jones, Mrs. B. A. Lewis, Mrs. James Parker, Mrs. William W. Chalmers and Mrs. Carl Mapes, all members of the executive board of the club.

The reception last night was the last official meeting of the Congressional Club during this administration. The rooms were decorated with pink roses and festooned with small American flags. The Marine Orchestra played.

The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Curtis D. Wilbur were the honor guests at a dinner given by Representative and Mrs. William E. Evans at the Willard last evening. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Dimock, Representative and Mrs. Frank Franklin W. Fort, Representative and Mrs. Frederick M. Davison, Representative and Mrs. Albert E. Carter, Representative Florence P. Kahn, Representative Mrs. L. E. Englebright, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Edward H. Campbell, Rear Admiral and Mrs. William D. Leigh, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Amos A. Fries, Commander and Mrs. Charles M. Martin, the Commissioner of Interstate Commerce and Mrs. Clyde B. Atchison and Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Armstrong.

The Secretary and Mrs. Wilbur are the guests in whose honor the Assistant

MISS HELEN HARDENBERG, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Raymond W. Hardenberg, who is assisting in selling tickets for the Inaugural Charity Ball, March 4.

Secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics, Mr. Edward P. Warner, will entertain at dinner this evening at the Mayflower. Miss Elizabeth Warner will be hostess for her brother.

Secretary and Mrs. Wilbur are the guests in whose honor Mrs. Robert Whitney Imrie will entertain at luncheon today.

The Secretary of Agriculture, William M. Jardine, is the guest in whose honor the bureau chiefs of the Department of Agriculture will entertain at dinner Saturday evening at the Cosmos Club.

Mr. James J. Davis, wife of the Secretary of Labor, and Mrs. George Mesta were the guests in whose honor Mrs. Clyde Kelly, wife of Representative Kelly, entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Congressional Club. The luncheon was given in honor of the 25th anniversary of the club, which is a small table. Among the guests were the members of the executive board of the club, Mrs. W. J. Davis, who is visiting from James J. Davis, and Mrs. Bailey, of New York, a guest of Mrs. George Mesta.

Mrs. John G. Sergeant is Guest at Luncheon.

Mrs. John G. Sergeant, wife of the Attorney General, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given yesterday at the Wardman Park Hotel by Baroness von Rennberg-Drier. The other guests were Mr. Edward J. Edwards, Mr. Frank E. Hopkins, Mrs. Charles J. Williamson, Mrs. Karl Droop, Mrs. Boyd Carpenter, Mrs. Gordon Dunthorne, Mrs. Maude Whitman, Mrs. L. B. Andrews, Mrs. F. H. Roberts, Mrs. E. A. Andrews, Mrs. E. B. Biddle, Mrs. C. D. Gibbons, Mrs. J. B. Mann, Mrs. William G. Wheeler and Mrs. Samuel J. Major.

Senator and Mrs. Thomas F. Bayard will entertain at dinner this evening.

Senator Edward I. Edwards will be joined at the Wardman Park Hotel next evening by Mr. Edward J. Edwards. Mr. Edwards will come from his home in Jersey City, N. J., and will pass several days with his father and his sister, Miss Elizabeth Edwards.

Mrs. Arthur H. Vandenberg, wife of Senator Vandenberg, will be at home Thursday, February 28, from 4 to 6 o'clock at the Willard. No cards have been issued.

Representative Loring M. Black has returned to the Wardman Park Hotel from his home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Representative and Mrs. Harcourt J. Pratt, of New York, were hosts at dinner last evening at the Mayflower. Their guests included Representative and Mrs. William D. Leahy, Representative and Mrs. William Dempsey, Representative and Mrs. Frank Crowther and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Platt.

Mrs. Otis Wingo to Hold Bridge and Tea Party.

Mrs. Otis Wingo, wife of Representative Wingo, will be the guest in whose honor Mrs. Goodloe Falconer will entertain at luncheon today, following the second of Dr. Louis K. Anspacher's talks on Russian literature at the Willard.

Mme. Bostrom, wife of the Minister of Sweden, will receive Friday afternoon from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock.

Speaker and Mrs. Longsworth Congressional Club Guests.

The Assistant Secretary of War for Aviation and Mrs. F. Truber Davis, will entertain at dinner this evening.

Mrs. M. E. Locke and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Gibson, have arrived at the Mayflower to be with Mrs. Locke's aunt, Lady Harrington. Col. Locke is on the general staff, stationed in Boston, where they have an apartment at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, and entered last night in honor of his excellency, the Grand Duke Alexander of Russia.

Maj. Gen. George Barnett, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Irving Chase at their home in Palm Beach, Fla., will return this week.

Maj. Gen. Benjamin A. Poore, of Tilden Gardens, left last night for Fort Leavenworth, Kans., for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Donald A. Robinson of Maj. Gen. Robinson.

Among those who entertained parties at luncheon yesterday at the Carlton were Representative E. Hart Fenn, Mrs. Fred A. Britton, Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrand and Mrs. Franklin van Willebrand.

Mrs. Grace Burton will entertain at luncheon today at the Washington Club.

Col. and Mrs. Frank E. Hopkins have been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Dimock, of Forest Hills, Long Island, N. Y. Mrs. Andrews, who has been passing several days here, will return to her home today.

Mrs. Herbert Owen Williams, wife of Brig. Gen. Williams, will entertain at luncheon today at the Carlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Lambert are entertaining at dinner this evening.

Mrs. Demarest Lloyd is at the St. Regis.

Mrs. William J. Donovan is in New York at the Ambassador Hotel.

Maj. H. L. Fleming, of the Air Corps, has arrived from New York and is at the Carlton for a few days.

Mrs. Clementina Mackenzie of Chestnut Hill, Fla., will come to Washington tomorrow to pass several days as the guest of Miss Sallie Hews Phillips, daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Ze Barney Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynne B. Kendall will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Irving Chase at their home in Palm Beach, Fla., will return this week.

Mrs. Walter F. Tuckerman will be a luncheon hostess today, following the Anspacher lecture.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Woodhull and Mrs. Marinus Willett are among the arrivals at the Westbury.

The Commissioner of Immigration and Mrs. Harry E. Hull will be joined in their apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel tomorrow by the Commissioner's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ross of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Ross will remain until Sunday.

Mrs. William Moore Stillwell is the guest of Commander and Mrs. E. H. Tillman at their home on Kalorama road.

Mrs. Fred Bonner will entertain at the dinner dance at the Wardman Park Hotel on March 2.

Mrs. William Meade Coulling is passing a few weeks at the Hotel Roosevelt.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Melville, Jr., of Stony Brook, Long Island, and their son, Mr. Ward Melville, are passing a few days at the Mayflower, where Mrs. Melville entertained informally at luncheon yesterday. Her guests included Mrs. Henry H. Roseau, Mrs.

For quick, accurate dealing

BICYCLE

and CONGRESS

PLAYING CARDS

22.50

BRILLIANT BANDS AND MOTIFS
OF GOLD AND SILVER CONTRAST THIS LOVELY WHITE SATIN CREATION.

ARTCRAFT feminine footwear

22.50

ITS BEAUTY
ENHANCED WHEN TINTED TO MATCH
YOUR GOWN.

1311 F STREET

1215 CONNECTICUT AVENUE, N. W.

Fashions for Early Spring

GOWNS • WRAPS • ENSEMBLES

BAGS and ACCESSORIES

Now being displayed

NEW YORK BOSTON PARIS BUFFALO

SOUTHAMPTON WASHINGTON, D. C.

Want a pleasant evening?

an evening

FAIR

OUT TODAY

Chic fiction...modern art...polite satire...well bred clothes...inside theatre...golf, bridge, motors...lovely women...all good news stands ter of Mrs. Dewey, who is now in Paris, is expected to arrive in March.

35c

Mrs. Walter F. Tuckerman will be a luncheon hostess today, following the Anspacher lecture.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Woodhull and Mrs. Marinus Willett are among the arrivals at the Westbury.

The Commissioner of Immigration and Mrs. Harry E. Hull will be joined in their apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel tomorrow by the Commissioner's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ross of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Ross will remain until Sunday.

Mrs. William Moore Stillwell is the guest of Commander and Mrs. E. H. Tillman at their home on Kalorama road.

Mrs. Fred Bonner will entertain at the dinner dance at the Wardman Park Hotel on March 2.

Mrs. William Meade Coulling is passing a few weeks at the Hotel Roosevelt.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Melville, Jr., of Stony Brook, Long Island, and their son, Mr. Ward Melville, are passing a few days at the Mayflower, where Mrs. Melville entertained informally at luncheon yesterday. Her guests included Mrs. Henry H. Roseau, Mrs.

Donald Armstrong and Mrs. Alfred A.

Mrs. Ruth Owen, of Coconut Grove, Fla., arrived yesterday and will be at the Mayflower for an indefinite period.

Mrs. William Howard Taft heads the list of patrons for the ball given to be given by his imperial highness the Grand Duke Alexander, at the residence of the Misses Patten at 4:30 on Monday evening, Feb. 25. The following have also accepted as patrons: Mrs. Frederic Atherton, Mrs. Lars Anderson, Mrs. Hugh A. Auchincloss, Mrs. Thomas P. Bayard, Mrs. Charles J. Bell, Mrs. Gist Blair, Princess Boncompagni, Mrs. William Cabell Bruce, Princess Can-

CONTINUED ON PAGE 9, COLUMN 4

The Wonder Hotel of New York

HOTEL MANGER

Heads of 7th Ave. 50-51st Sts.

Times Sq. New York City

2000 Rooms

Rooms with running water $2.50

For two 3.50

Rooms with shower or bath and shower 3.00-5.00

For two 4.00-5.00-6.00

No Higher Rates

SUPERIOR rough dry
8 Cents a pound
WEST END LAUNDRY
Phone Main 2323

SAVE MONEY ON STORAGE
SMITH'S FIRE-PROOF STORAGE
AGENTS ALLIED VAN LINES
CRATE AND PACK BY EXPERTS
1313 U ST. PHONE NORTH 3323

Your friends and their portraits

Exigencies of work and play may separate you from your friends long periods at a time. -sometimes forever. But their portraits remain always near you. Ask them for their portraits.

Also, phone Underwood's now and make an appointment to have your own portrait made. They are priced from $12 a dozen.

UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD
Personality Portraits
1230 Connecticut Avenue Telephone Decatur 4100

Subtle Shades Are Smart

RADIO MAN MAY DIE FROM CRASH INJURY

Steadman Gunning Hurt as KWKH Station Owner's Plane Hits House.

WAS COMING TO CAPITAL

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 19 (United Press)—The airplane "Affidavit Express," belonging to W. K. Henderson, of Kennonwood, La., famous operator of the radio broadcasting station KWKH at Shreveport, crashed through the roof of his house last night, probably fatally injuring Steadman Gunning, the station's announcer. L. V. Leahy, also of Shreveport, was slightly hurt.

The plane was returning to Shreveport to Washington with hundreds of affidavits to be used by Henderson in a Federal radio commission's hearing to decide whether KWKH's wave length will be awarded to station VVOO.

The plane had just taken off from Robert Field here, where a stop had been made for gas, and was attempting to straighten out for Washington when the crash occurred shortly before 4 p.m. The ship had reached an altitude of about 1,000 feet when the engine stalled. Describing an abrupt start, the plane nose-dived toward the earth and crashed through the roof of the home of J. D. Deloach.

Mr. and Mrs. Deloach and a neighbor, Mrs. Oscar Fliner, were in the house at the time. They sat talking in a front room, and were stunned by the crash, which they at first thought was an explosion. The engine of the plane was torn from the fuselage and passed through to the front entrance. A gaping hole was torn in the roof.

The demolished fuselage and wings rolled over the eaves of the house and dropped to the ground. Gasoline from the fuel tank flooded several rooms of the home and a police guard was posted to avoid a fire. A crowd of several hundred persons gathered in the yard and street in front of the residence.

Steadman Gunning, 36, was rushed to a hospital, where Gunning's condition was said to be critical. Millions know station KWKH and its owner, as well as Gunning, the announcer, through their familiar salutation, "Hello, World."

50 INJURED IN PANIC IN BIG HUDSON TUBE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

behind in the second car of the disabled train.

Police were hurried from the Hoboken side of the tube and they assisted in the work of rescue.

Crowds Block Streets.

Several thousand spectators blocked traffic in the vicinity of the Christopher Street Station. Before 40 extra policemen were called to form police lines.

Dr. Harry M. Archer, fire department surgeon, who responded with the department, was the first to enter the tube when entering the tube to assist in carrying out the injured and cut and bruised his face. Although his injuries were painful, he stuck to his task and assisted the dozen or more ambulance surgeons and gas company inhalator crews in operating the inhalators.

Fast as the injured and smoke-dazed passengers reached the street they were laid in rows on the platform of the station. Others were able to continue to their homes after reaching fresh air outdoors.

Firemen made short work of the blaze, but it was half an hour before another train arrived and shunted the disabled train over to the Hudson side of the tube, where it was disorganized for more than an hour.

Motorman is Questioned.

The motorman of the train, Harry Van Zandt, was taken through an exit at the Christopher Street Station to be questioned by police.

Several passengers said they believed the fire was caused by a short circuit, but the motorman said he had checked the under part of the car and found the flames was not accompanied by the usual explosion, passengers said.

Inspection of the burner car showed the flames had burned through the floorboards and the interior of the train. Officials of the board of transportation opened a conference at the Christopher Street station.

The FREE Educational Bureau of The Washington Post will be glad to supply you with booklets and other information on Schools and Colleges in and out of Washington.

The Greatest Topping for Hot Cakes

Cover hot cakes or waffles with Golden Crown Syrup and you cover them with glory. A glory long known and remembered throughout the South. Golden Crown is the true Southern flavor.

At All Good Grocers

Free: Recipe, telling how to make "Topping with Golden Crown." Write for it.

Stewart, Son & Co., Baltimore, Md.

GOLDEN CROWN
TABLE SYRUP

"True Southern Flavor"

"Doggone Man," of KWKH, In Capital for Radio Fight

W. K. Henderson, Wealthy Louisianian, Combats Wave Length Plea.

If ever there is a contest to determine a champion among men with hobbies, sporting men will do well to put their money on W. K. Henderson, of Shreveport, La., the well known radio man, who broadcasts from the independent station, KWKH.

Henderson, a mild mannered man of medium stature, who today finds himself embroiled with W. G. Skelly, Republican national committeeman for Louisiana, over broadcasting hours, descended upon the Willard Hotel yesterday with a party of ten persons and thousands of affidavits setting forth in the judgment of each affiant there is nothing quite so delectable on the air as the station that announces itself as follows:

"Hello, world! Dog-gone it! Shreveport on the air; Shreveport everywhere."

Henderson made his money in iron and steel and then found in radio an outlet for a lot of enthusiasm. An independent station was licensed in his name in 1924 and since then he has been on the air every day and night. He broadcasts himself when in the air and in his own inimitable way gives to that announcement of "dog-gone it," an element of the affection he has for his hobby, for Shreveport "and for the South," with a smile.

Station KWKH operates on a wave length of 850 kilocycles and it seems that Skelly, who recently acquired a broadcasting station, has filed with the Federal Radio Commission an application for that particular wave length.

Henderson shares it with Loyola, the Catholic University at Shreveport.

Hearing on the application is being heard by the Radio Commission today. Henderson takes his radio equipment to the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" then turned out to greet Herbert Hoover, who was carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the train he traveled on to Washington.

The train drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.

Members carrying station KWKH's motto were spread across the

train in the President-elect's behalf.

Then he followed and explained that his "unseen audience" had just been subjected to Republican interference.

The train he traveled on to Washington drew an ovation at every stop, members of the party said. Bands saw them off at the station and the band of railway trainmen saying that at Bristol, Va., here were more people at the station to cheer Henderson and greet him with shouts of "Hello, world!" than turned out to greet Herbert Hoover.</p

BURLINGAME TRIAL SET FOR SATURDAY

Faces Charges of Conduct Unbecoming an Officer for Love Notes.

PALMIST STILL SOUGHT

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

prosecution Counsel William W. Bride had submitted to them an opinion that he was not available to pay any outside persons who might have been named the services of such persons would not be legal.

The opinion was that the Board of Directors and Assistant Corporation Counsel Francis H. Stephen and Assistant Corporation Counsel Richmond B. Keech, to whom Bride turned over the task of preparing an opinion, believed he did not want to pay the charges because he did not want himself because he and Assistant Corporation Counsel Walter L. Fowler, who has been prosecutor before the regular trial board, will prosecute the charges against Burlingame before the special board.

The formal order creating the special board was adopted on motion of Commissioner Proctor L. Doughtery, president of the board, who has special supervision of the Police Force.

None of the heads of departments under Doughtery's immediate supervision were named to the board. Each member was questioned by the Committee before he was named to the board.

These questions were designed to make certain that none of the board members were related to any of the principals in the case, or were special friends of either Burlingame, his accusers or prosecutors.

Blandon Still Problem.

Burlingame, entitled to 48 hours' notice before he can be brought to trial and charged with specific acts in the commission of the case, which has been aired in speeches on the floor of the House and Senate and in the newspaper columns against him. Should he desire more time to prepare his defense, he can do so, but he has not done so, nor, however, expected to ask for it, having twice demanded expedition of whatever proceedings may be pursued.

Representative Blandon, who has been the chief figure in the prosecution against Burlingame, still is a factor, despite his apparent effort to eliminate himself by his statement Sunday night that he will not be a witness in the case.

Observers are at a loss to discover how prosecutors of the charges against Burlingame can prove their case without the testimony of Blandon, although no official connection with the case could yesterday discuss the Texas Congressman's connection.

Serious Charges Unsupported.

Frankly, District officials are disappointed in the outcome of the case, for the trial has given widespread publicity to charges of graft and other highly improper actions as a result of the speeches of Representative Blandon. Senator Carter, Representative Gibson, chairman of the House Committee on Education, charged with investigating District affairs.

No evidence in substantiation of these charges has been forthcoming from Blandon, Caraway or Gibson, and in the absence of such evidence, graft is unproven. They are anxious, however, that the public understand the lack of evidence in support of these charges. They are more than anxious that no impropriety be maintained and that there is no disposition to minimize the charges against Burlingame. They do not want to "whitewash" him.

Mrs. Blalock's Stories.

Mrs. Blalock, herself, brought officials up sharply in her investigation. In the statement which she made to Representative Gibson in a police station, she is said to have declared that the money given to Burlingame, as represented by checks in evidence, was Burlingame's money.

In her affidavit made in Abeline, Tex., before Representative Blandon, she declared that the self-same money was her own.

On the basis of documentary evidence available, it is pointed out, Burlingame could defeat, forthwith, any charge of an attempt to force money from the woman.

Maryland Seeking Vacation Capital

Resolution Will Request
Congress to Select
Site in State.

Special to The Washington Post.
Annapolis, Md., Feb. 19.—A joint resolution requesting Congress to select site somewhere in Maryland for the summer home of the President, was presented to the Senate today by Walter J. Mitchell (Democrat), Charles C. Mathews (Democrat), Charles C. Mathews, Speaker Longworth, of the House, and each of the Maryland senators and representatives.

The resolution reads: Whereas, President Coolidge has suggested that the place should be for a summer home for the President of the United States near Washington; and whereas, there are many suitable sites in Maryland near the National Capital, which would be desirable as summer home for the President; and whereas, since the Nation's Capital was formerly a part of Maryland, it seems appropriate that the summer home of the President should be located in Maryland; therefore, be it resolved by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the Congress of the United States be and it is hereby requested to select site for the summer home of the President of the United States somewhere in the State of Maryland.

Woman Weighing 522 Is Interred in Danville

Danville, Va., Feb. 19.—Ina Gunn, 35, colored, is believed to be the heaviest person ever interred here. She weighed 522 pounds, slightly more than a quarter of a ton. She was normal physically, the undertaker said. She was born in Caswell County, N. C., but died in North Fork, W. Va. The coffin reposed in a box measurement which was 6 feet 6 inches long, 44 inches wide and 30 inches high. It was too large to be suited to the mortuary establishment and it required ten pallbearers.

Two in Collision of Cars Near Martinsburg, Hurt

Martinsburg, W. Va., Feb. 19.—Edgar Clark, 26, of Parkersburg, suffered a severe injury to his hip and back and W. M. Bachell, of Hagerstown, Md., was thrown to the roadway when their car was hit by a light car driven by a man from the county, who was driving against a pole on the State highway north of here.

Clark, on his way to this city to make a train connection, declined to go to a hospital. Bachell received treatment and returned to Hagerstown.

Burlingame Accusations

Metropolitan Police Department, Washington, D. C., February 1929.
To the Police Trial Board of the District of Columbia:
I hereby charge Guy E. Burlingame, a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, as follows:

I. Conduct prejudicial to the reputation, good order and discipline of the police force, in violation of paragraph (8) section 22, chapter 17, of the manual governing conduct of force.

II. Conduct unbecoming an officer, in violation of paragraph (m), section 22, chapter 17, of the manual governing conduct of force.

All specifications are directed to both charges.

Specification I.

That the said Guy E. Burlingame, being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 11th day of February, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 18th day of November, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 25th day of November, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 28th day of November, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 29th day of November, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 30th day of November, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 31st day of November, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 1st day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 2nd day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 3rd day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 4th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 5th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 6th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 7th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 8th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 9th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 10th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 11th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 12th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 13th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 14th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 15th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 16th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 17th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 18th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 19th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 20th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 21st day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 22nd day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 23rd day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 24th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 25th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 26th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 27th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 28th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man, and being then and there an associate of one Helen F. Blalock, then residing in the District of Columbia, did, on or about the 29th day of December, 1927, write, or cause to be written, a certain two-page letter of ten paragraphs, beginning with the salutation, "My Dear Helen," and ending with the designation "Your HEARTSORE, Daddy," said letter professed love and affection for the said Helen F. Blalock, for whom it was intended, the said Helen F. Blalock being then and there a captain of the Metropolitan Police Force of the District of Columbia, and a married man,

CANADA'S AID ASKED FOR KELLOGG PACT

Premier Urges Approval; Sees Treaty as Step to Peace
Farther Than League.

CLASH ON RESERVATIONS

Ottawa, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A resolution declaring it expedient for the Canadian Parliament to approve the Kellogg multilateral treaty to outlaw war was moved by Premier MacKenzie King at today's session of the House of Commons.

Outlining the origin of the treaty and the steps taken in regard to it, Mr. King said the nations had come to feel war was an obsolete method of settling disputes and that it was generally felt that war would annihilate civilization unless civilization halted war. After quoting Foreign Minister Aristide Briand, of France, on the renunciation of war as a national policy, Mr. King said:

"Surely if there is such a thing as national honor, this treaty must form a big part in the future history of the world."

"This treaty goes a step farther than the League of Nations in renouncing war at all times," he added. "The work of the League of Nations for peace and disarmament has been greatly assisted by this treaty."

"Canada is united in the cause of peace," said Mr. King. "And the people of this country will welcome this treaty as another step on the road to universal peace."

He outlined the Rush-Bagot treaty covering armaments on the Great Lakes, which he said was along the same lines between two nations as the Paris pact was among all nations. He did not believe the Rush-Bagot treaty would ever be allowed to lapse.

R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, asked what the government leader has to say about reservations. This brought a lively discussion. The government attitude with respect to reservations, Mr. King said, the view expressed by Sir Austen Chamberlain in the British House was that there were no reservations.

Mr. Bennett was not so optimistic as to the fact that the nations persisted in increasing their armaments. Canada was glad to associate herself in outlawing war, he said, but instruments of war-fare ought to be removed.

Widow Held Guilty Of Manslaughter

Husband, Patrolman, Was Stabbed to Death in Home Sept. 15.

New York, Feb. 19 (N.Y.W.N.S.)—Mrs. Dorothy Leonard, who was tried before County Judge Adel in Long Island City court on a first-degree manslaughter charge for stabbing her husband, Patrolman Michael J. O'Neil, at their home in Flushing on September 15 last, was found guilty of manslaughter this afternoon. The jurors, who deliberated for 3½ hours, recommended mercy. The maximum penalty for first-degree manslaughter is fifteen years' imprisonment.

The jury went out at 2 p.m., after lunch, and returned with its verdict at 4:03 p.m. Mrs. Leonard wept when the verdict was announced and had to be assisted to the bar by a court attendant.

While she was giving her pedigree to the court clerk, Mrs. Leonard sobbed so much that it was frequently necessary to stop her. She was then remanded to the Queens County Jail until Thursday, when she will be sentenced by Judge Adel.

Slain Writer Poisoned, Is Belief of Mother

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Mrs. Margaret Williams, mother, and Orval Williams, brother of Harry B. Williams, whose body was found yesterday in the Rio Grande River near Laredo, Tex., said this afternoon they would ask authorities to disinter the body and examine it for traces of poison.

The body was found last night after an attorney who represented that Williams probably was dead when thrown into the river. He disappeared several weeks ago.

13 Illicit Aliens on Ship Seized for Deportation

Charleston, S. C., Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Thirteen Dutch Jews, found in the hold of the steamship Fluorespar, which arrived today from Rotterdam, face deportation for entering the country illegally.

They are to be given a hearing by immigration authorities here late today or tomorrow.

SUGAR MAKES EATING A JOY

Why eat unflavored, unappetizing foods?

A change is coming over the well-informed eating ideas of this country. For a time, food faddists tried to make us believe that we had to eat all kinds of things we didn't like in order to be healthy. Good sense is beginning to assert itself and we now know that the foods that are good for us may also be the most enjoyable. In fact, if we don't like the healthful foods, we probably won't eat them.

Prominent medical and other scientific authorities are now reminding us that the appetizing flavors may be developed and improved by sugar. One well-known scientist, for example, states that "fruit flavors are developed by sugar. Fruit acids are softened by sugar."

The only safe rule for a healthful diet is to eat as large a variety of foods as possible, including healthful cereals, fruits, vegetables, and table candy, according to the taste by the judicious use of sugar. Sugar is not only nutriment in its least costly form. It is Nature's perfect flavor. Sugar develops the appetizing quality of nearly all fruits. Desserts of fresh or cooked fruits are growing more and more popular. Most candy containing fruits, nuts, and pure sugar is delicious and satisfying at the end of a meal.

No one should overeat or under-eat, but everyone, in order to be healthy, should eat plenty of healthful foods and enjoy them. The Sugar Institute.

ALBUM PRESENTED BY URUGUAYAN CHILDREN

The Uruguayan Minister to the United States presents an album made by school children of Uruguay to the Jackson School. Left to right: Francis Beaman, Dr. L. S. Rowe, Mme. Varela, Dr. J. Varela, Uruguayan Minister; Dr. Frank Ballou, superintendent of schools; Mme. Varela, Miss L. E. Ballou, principal of Jackson School, and Henry W. Draper, supervising principal.

Would Give Lindbergh's Name to New Stars

Paris, Feb. 19 (U.P.)—The suggestion that stars be named after famous air pilots such as Lindbergh, Byrd, Gullaud, Nunneley, Guymer and others of equal rank is being made in French aviation circles.

It is pointed out that this would not only give appropriate recognition of aviation feats, but would do away with the difficult Greek nomenclature now used by astronomers.

Swimming Pool Denied Policemen

Milwaukee, Feb. 19 (U.P.)—A swimming pool is unnecessary for training police, according to the city council, decided in crossing off a pool from the proposed plans of a new public safety building.

J. G. Laubenheimer, police chief, asked for the pool to teach life-saving and to keep his force physically fit.

Runaway Building Nearly Wrecks Train

Bad Wing, Minn., Feb. 19 (U.P.)—A railway wreck was narrowly averted here when an engineer brought his train to a stop just a few feet short of a "runaway building," which blocked the tracks. The building, it may be noted, had got away from workmen who were moving it from one location to another.

The Chicago Great Western Railway engineer saw the obstruction in time to halt his train. Workmen hacked away one corner of the building and the train continued its journey.

King of Spain Ratifies Kelllogg Antiwar Pact

Madrid, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Premier Primo de Rivera today announced King Alfonso had signed a decree ratifying the adherence of Spain to the Kelllogg pact for the outlawing of war.

Announcement that the cabinet had approved the ratification was made last night.

Maj. Young, Flying U. S. Plane, Lands in France

Paris, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Maj. Clarence M. Young, who is touring European airports in behalf of the United States Department of Commerce, landed at Le Bourget Field this afternoon.

He flew here from Croydon, England, in a biplane, which he brought from the United States a week ago. His tour will cover about 5,000 miles.

Influenza Among 300 On Ice-Bound Ferryboat

Copenhagen, Denmark, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—A wireless message from the ferryboat Try, which has been icebound with 300 passengers in the great belt of Copenhagen for two days and nights, reports an outbreak of influenza.

There is plenty of food aboard, but no doctor or medical supplies. Special efforts are being made to send relief.

Hahn 'Belle' Not Repainted, Asserts London Art Expert

Capt. R. L. Douglas Declares That Picture in Louvre Has Suffered From Disintegration; Reveals That Irish Private Collection Possesses a Da Vinci.

New York, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Capt. R. Langton Douglas, London art expert and first witness for the defense in the $500,000 slander of title suit of Mrs. Andreas Lardou Hahn against Sir Joseph Duveen over the origin of her picture, "La Belle Ferronniere," declared on the stand today that there was not the slightest trace of repainting on the canvas.

With this statement he contradicted Georges Sorcias, French expert, whose deposition was regarded as one of the bulwarks of the plaintiff's case. Sorcias and other experts for Mrs. Hahn said her painting had been damaged by repainting.

Incidentally, Capt. Douglas said he never had heard of Sorcias until this trial began.

Capt. Douglas, graduate of Oxford, took the stand this morning as the defense attorney for John D. Hahn. Harman Black had ruled out as court began a motion for dismissal made by Sir Joseph's attorneys. The captain was on the stand most of the day.

He said that although in his opinion the Hahn picture never had been repainted and was in excellent condition, the Louvre portrait, which Sir Joseph and other critics say is the real Belle, had suffered through disintegration of paints and the darkening of its varnish-glazing.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is much more beautiful than the Hahn painting.

"The Louvre lady," said Capt. Douglas, "is svelt and alive."

"What is svelt?" S. Lawrence Miller, Mrs. Hahn's attorney, demanded.

On the stand, Capt. Douglas replied: "There's nothing sloppy about her at all."

The witness said he was director of the Dublin Museum from 1916 to 1923.

He supported Sir Joseph in his declarations that the Louvre "La Belle" is

WASHINGTON'S FINEST MEN'S WEAR STORE

*Begins Today!ANY OVERCOAT IN OUR STOCK

Formerly

$50 $55 $60 $65

$31

Ask About
Our Extended
Payment PlanAlterations Are IncludedHart Schaffner & Marx Make

This is the big once-a-year Overcoat sale that Washington men wait for! Fine quality Hart Schaffner & Marx coats, many at less than half price! Plain blues! Plain greys! Fancy mixtures! All styles! All sizes!

Raleigh Haberdasher
1310 F Street

NO MATTER HOW MANY DICTIONARIES YOU HAVE, OR THE COST OF SAME, THEY ARE OUT OF DATE AND INCOMPLETE, WHEN COMPARED TO THE

NEW WORLD DICTIONARY
BASED ON THE ORIGINAL WEBSTER

1152 large pages.

Printed on fine clear white paper, bound in good quality dark green textile leather [special design] with gold stamping. The most durable binding known to the trade.

The extensive vocabulary contains not only the ordinary words in general use but the new and unusual words that have come into use as a result of the revolutionary development of the automobile, aviation, radio, telephone, wireless telegraph, moving picture industry, the arts, science and commerce, all of which will be found in regular alphabetical order in the main vocabulary. A very complete list of synonyms and antonyms, as a separate section a complete summary of English grammar and other features of educational value.

This Dictionary must be seen and examined to appreciate its size, scope, value and handsome binding.

MONEY BACK
IF NOT SATISFIED

To get it bound in art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edges and thumb index, send $1.00 extra. An ideal gift in fine box.

Clip 3 Coupons on consecutive days and present or mail same to this paper with 95 cents*MAIL ORDERS will be filled when postage is added.
Find Coupon Page 3M. D. SEDAM RAISED BY PHONE COMPANY

General Manager Is Promoted to Vice President; Other Changes in Officers.

MORE EXTENSIONS HERE

Announcement was made yesterday at the office of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. here that Marshal D. Sedam, general manager of the company, was elevated to the vice presidency at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company in New York Monday.

The board of directors, which includes Albert E. Berry, Charles J. Bell, Edwin C. Graham, John Foote and B. Francis Saul, all of this city, and Walter S. Gifford and Eugene S. Wilson, of New York, was selected.

Officers of the company reelected were Albert E. Berry, president; Philip O. Coffin, vice president and general auditor; John C. Koons and Burdett Sturke, vice presidents; Dozier A. Dewart, general counsel; Dorell S. Porter, secretary, and Thomas B. Clarkson, treasurer.

Mr. Sedam, the new vice president, entered the employ of the Bell system in 1910, with the Central Union Telephone Co. In February, 1922, he became general traffic manager of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. here, and on May 15, 1927, he was appointed general manager.

In its report to the stockholders, the board of directors disclosed the additions and improvements made in the telephone system in the District of Columbia during 1929 will involve gross expenditures of $5,157,000.

Net additions for this year are estimated to be $4,756,000. Among the major additions will be the building of a central office equipment which will involve gross expenditures of $2,813,000; outside plant facilities, $853,000, and telephone station equipment and private branch exchange apparatus, $1,200,000.

In the next five years the company plans to provide additions and improvements to the telephone system in Washington involving expenditures of $18,664,000, with net additions of $9,627,000.

During 1929 it is estimated that there will be an increase in the number of telephones in the District of Columbia of 20,000.

Changes in Telephones.

In 1928 the net gain was 6,775 telephones, making a total of 105,361 sets December 31.

To see this net gain the company installed 28,951 telephones and disconnected 20,176. Also 11,951 telephones were moved from one location to another during the year.

Additions and improvements to the Washington telephone system during 1928 involved gross expenditures of $2,629,612. The net additions were $1,183,861.

Among the major items were buildings, improvements, moving expenditures of $14,106, the installation of central office apparatus, $68,726; telephone subscribers' substation equipment, $201,305, and the construction of exchange and toll lines, $377,124.

Bert Acosta Will Take

Test for Pilot's License

Bert Acosta, a pilot on the Byrd transatlantic flight, was given permission yesterday to take the pilot's test as a preliminary to restoration of his license, which was suspended some time ago, for which since then, has lapsed. Permission was granted by Assistant William P. McCracken after a conference with Acosta.

The well known pilot, who arrived here Monday afternoon, announced last night he will leave for the pilot's test at 8 o'clock for New York, and will take the pilot's test within the next few days.

Vital Statistics

BIRTHS REPORTED.

Leonard C. and Pauline Redmond, girl and boy, born at 10 a.m. at home to William A. and Catherine Lushay, boy. Stanley H. and Pauline M. Johnson, boy. William J. and Katherine M. Gleason, boy. Michael J. and Anna E. Jurek, boy. Joseph C. and Helen S. Propter, boy. Frank L. and Mary M. Goff, boy. Gillion A. and Jean O. Wright, boy. Edward D. and Louise M. Martin, boy. George and Doris Dahl, boy. Gertie and Bertie Worthy, girl. Henry H. and Beulah Cooper, girl. Harold and Pauline S. Hefner, girl. Harold M. and Edna M. Schreider, girl. John W. and Dorothy Sheely, girl. John W. and Anna C. Goff, girl. Stanley J. and James C. Romanek, girl. William and Ruth C. Ockershausen, girl. Gordon R. and Stella E. Haynes, boy. Alfie and Beatrice Hartarsky, boy. George and Beatrice Bowrie, boy.

LICENSED TO MARRY.

Person B. Fletcher, Jr., 22, and E. Gladys Eby, 23. The Rev. T. C. Crisler, pastor. John Daniel, 35, Crislersville, Va. and Anna L. Daniel, 30, Crislersville, Va. The Rev. C. John Copenhafer.

Michael J. and Annie E. B. Cunningham, 21. The Rev. Robert Andrew E. Dearing, 33, and Mary Kenny, 22.

Williamine Franco, 42, and Lucia Bucci, 34.

Oliver H. Perry, 30, and Dorothy Moore, 23. Alexandria, Va. The Rev. Percy F. Hall, 23, and Dorothy Moore, 23, Alexandria, Va. Mildred Cockerill, 24, Alexandria, Va. The Rev. William A. Lambeth.

Licenses issued at Rockville, Md.: John W. Green, 86 yrs., Episcopal Erc. Ear and Throat Hosp.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Frederick C. Osborn, 77 yrs., St. Elizabeth's Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Harry Minor, 75 yrs., Providence Hosp.

Anne M. and John C. Thompson, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

Washington M. Miller, 74 yrs., 4907 Rockville Rd.

Mildred Thompson, 73 yrs., Apt. 118, The Ontario.

Elizabeth C. Chey, 73 yrs., Providence Hosp.

George and Anna Elizabeth Klotz, 18, both of Washington.

James H. Swiggett, 75 yrs., Ontario Hosp.

NEW MOVE DELAYED IN WAR DEBT PARLEY

Allies' Refusal to Proceed Shows Need of Adopting Fixed Program.

GERMANY AWAITS REPLY

Paris, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—The question of who is going to speak up first has brought the work of the reparations experts to a momentary standstill.

The German delegates having put in their document to show what in their judgment is the present financial situation in Germany, do not seem disposed to go farther. On the other hand, the French, principal creditors of Germany in reparations, find no reason for taking the initiative toward any change in the present system of the debts.

The result is that the experts are at a loss on a method of procedure for continuation of the conference.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, and Dr. Joseph Stamp, British delegate, spent last night as a subcommittee, elaborating a program which evidently failed to satisfy every one, since the full meeting of the experts today decided to add a Frenchman, an Italian and a Belgian to the subcommittee, which was asked to try again.

Political Angles Irrevocable.

It was inferred from the fact that there was no agreement on the subcommittee that the United States delegation prefers the most direct, interested parties to decide these most important questions of organization.

Owen D. Young and J. P. Morgan are generally recognized here as interested only in the technical phases of the question. They are not involved in political angles which, however, can not be eliminated without difficulty.

The French thesis in the present situation seems to be that the creditors of Germany must be compensated under the Dawes plan which were fixed by the first expert committee and that if any changes are to be made in this the initiative must come from the debtor.

Belgians Remain Stubborn.

The Germans, on the other hand, seem to hold that having set forth in full detail the economic situation of the Reich, it is for the committee to decide its compensation and to decide whether the Reich can pay and fix the annuities and total reparations accordingly.

This thesis meets a stubborn attitude on the part of the Belgians who refuse to accept any decision on the amount of reparations and on the part of the Italians, who declare that they are not getting enough under the present system.

The final effort of the enlarged subcommittee is expected to bring forth a compact system under which the experts can go ahead. Whether the proposal will demand of the Germans that they set forth their claims as to whether it will ask the creditors to give an idea of what they expect the Germans to make, it is recognized that some method of procedure must be adopted in order that the experts may go ahead.

Smith and Walker Avoid Interviewers

Grover Whalen, Also in Miami, Is Likewise Silent;

Three Do Not Meet.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Three prominent residents of the State of New York entered the hotel in Miami today, although they did not meet. They were former Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, Mayor James J. Walker of New York City, and the latter's son, Alfred, commissioner of Police, Grover Whalen.

The former standard bearer of the Democratic party, following his arrival here on the steamer Irvington from Cuba, declined to be interviewed by reporters. He is to stay in Miami until he can get a full recuperation from the demands of his active life of recent years.

Mayor Walker was aboard the yacht Hornbeam, William F. Todd, of New York. He is cordial in his denial of requests for interviews, but offered his need for rest from a recent attack of influenza as the reason for coming to Miami.

Mr. Whalen spent some time here today with a group of Palm Beach residents. Later today a conference with associates in Miami precluded possibility of an interview.

UNITED STATES REPARATIONS EXPERTS IN PARIS

American reparations experts as they arrived in Paris. Left to right—Thomas W. Lamont, alternate for J. P. Morgan, Morgan, himself, and Owen D. Young.

Funeral Rites Held For E. L. Doheny, Jr.

Murdered Oil Magnate Is Buried in Family Vault at Santa Sadina.

Los Angeles, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Edward L. Doheny, Jr., only son of Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, was buried today at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. The 36-year-old capitalist was shot to death Saturday night by his friend and employee, Theodore Hugh Plunkett, who then killed himself. Plunkett was believed to have been insane.

Requiem mass was held at St. Vincent's Catholic Church, attended by hundreds of friends of the Doheny family. A large crowd gathered outside the church. The interment was held at the Doheny's crypt in an historic piece of work brought to America from Italy. Simple funeral services will be held for Plunkett tomorrow.

Swamps Reclaimed By Sugar Company

Clewiston, Fla., Feb. 19 (U.P.)—Reclamation of a great area of swamp land started today when the mill of the Southern Sugar Co. was opened formally here. The company has obtained 125,000 acres of Everglade property and B. G. Dahlberg, the president, said the company planned a string of sugar mills extending between Clewiston and Canal Point.

The second mill will be completed by 1929. Many acres of sugar cane are under cultivation now, and Dahlberg said an additional 12,000 acres would be planted next year.

When you cook quits—don't worry about it. Make 4205 and put a small slipper in the pocket for work for you. Chances are your new cook will report in time to serve breakfast.

Atlantic City Chosen For Cotton Convention

Spartanburg, S. C., Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Atlantic City was selected as the 1929 meeting place of the American Cotton Manufacturers Association at a meeting of the board of governors here today. The convention will be held on May 23 and 24.

Atlanta, Ga., and Charlotte, N. C., also sought to be the convention cities.

Col. Fitzmaurice to Fly From Berlin to America

London, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—The newspapers quote Col. James Fitzmaurice, who resigned as chief of the air force of the Irish Free State last week, as saying that he intends to attempt a flight from Berlin to New York by way of the Azores in June.

The FREE Educational Bureau of The Washington Post will be glad to supply you with brochures and other information on Schools and Colleges in and out of Washington.

Advertising Congress Will Be Held in Berlin

New York, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—The International Congress of Advertising Men is to be held in Berlin from August 12 to 15. A previous announcement from abroad had said the congress would open September 11.

Charles S. Youngman, of Milwaukee, president of the International Advertising Association, who is in Berlin in connection with preparations for the congress, has estimated that 5,000 persons will attend the meeting, 3,000 of them from the United States.

Prof. Papetti, Artist, Dies.

Milan, Italy, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Prof. Camillo Papetti, artist and noted etcher, died today. He was 70 years old.

Do You Walk All Over Your Feet?

Do you pound them against the hard pavements? Never giving a thought to their care? Menihan's Arch-Aid Shoes with scientific foot ease and corrective features are made expressly for men who are hard on their feet. Put your feet into a pair of them ... a revelation in comfort.

Menihan's Arch Aid Shoes for Men

We illustrate the Bretton.
Fine kid leather... blucher type with swing last. All sizes. In black or tan. $10

Direct Elevator Service to the Men's Shoe Shop—Second Floor.

Exclusively in Washington at

THE HECHT CO.

"F Street at Seventh"

These escorted tours offer a maximum of sight-seeing and travel comfort.

A tour which includes the Indian-detour, Grand Canyon and Yosemite National Parks, Southern Arizona, and the best of scenic California, with return through the Colorado Rockies—speaks for itself.

Picture book, with details of cost and schedule, sent free—on request.

G. C. Dillard, Dist. Pass. Agent, Santa Fe Ry.
801-802 Finance Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa.
Phone: Kittenhouse 1466-8

SPANISH ARTILLERY DISSOLVED BY KING

Decree, Result of Revolt, Is Said to Make Exceptions for Loyal Officers.

EFFECT OF STEP DUBIOUS

Hendaye, French-Spanish Border, Feb. 19 (United Press)—King Alfonso of Spain signed a decree tantamount to dissolving the Spanish Artillery Corps, which recently was reported to have declared itself in sympathy with Spanish rebels at Ciudad Real and Valencia, according to advices received here tonight.

The decree, which was presented to the king at a cabinet meeting this morning, is understood to include a number of exceptions regarding artillery officers who have been faithful to the government of Primo de Rivera. Advices said the decree was being kept secret for the present to avoid any possible difficulties.

Other parts of the decree probably will appear in Madrid newspapers tomorrow, advices said. These parts are expected to include the order for dissolution of the artillery corps as well; a stipulation that officers and sub-officers may join the artillery corps under certain conditions. These conditions would be that they swear to remain faithful to the king and Primo de Rivera's government. Those refusing to accept the stipulation would be forced to remain outside the army.

The critical situation, which seriously has threatened the dictator's government, grew out of Primo de Rivera's attempt to rapidly clean up artillery corps rules seven years ago. These changes included dissolution of artillery juntas and aroused strong opposition to the premier-dictator.

The reaction to the present decree is uncertain, advices said. There are about 1,400 artillery officers involved, but it is not known yet how many of them will be directly affected.

Spanish exiles in France claim that virtually all of the associates of San Ciudad Real are as eager as the recent revolutionary movement in Spain, are still in Spain, safely concealed and awaiting the hour to emerge in a new revolt. These exiles

SOVIET MAY RETAIN TROTZKY IN TURKEY

Angora, Admitting His Plea to Berlin, Likely to Obey
Moscow's Desires.

PASSPORT VISA IS NEEDED

Constantinople, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Even if Berlin decided to admit Leon Trotsky to Germany, formalities which now hold the former Soviet war lord a prisoner in the Soviet consulate here will not be at an end. Trotsky can not leave Turkey without a Turkish government visa and it is expected that it may be some time before the attitude of Moscow toward a change in place of exile can be learned. The visa probably would be withheld by Moscow, so that the Turkish government would be instructed to give him a visa.

The Turkish government today made the first official statement concerning Trotsky since his arrival here. It was a bare announcement that he had telegraphed from Constantinople to the president of the German Reich asking a request that the German consulate be instructed to give him a visa.

Reports from Berlin today said that Germany already had agreed to admit Mr. Trotsky and that no difficulties were likely to be faced in the way of his husband in seeking refuge there provided he is willing to abstain from political activities.

Berlin, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Opinions expressed tonight, informally at the Prussian parliamentary reception given by the Prussian government indicated that a majority of parties would favor granting a visa to Leon Trotsky on the principle that the right of political asylum is sacred in international law.

On the other hand there is no doubt that the application of the former Soviet leader evokes no enthusiasm among German Republican authorities, however, feel that the new German State is so well established that there would be no danger of political upheaval in event of his coming.

assert that the "subversive movement continues" and the dissolution of artillery corps was received with unconcern.

YOUR INCOME TAX

A loss arising from fires, storms, shipwrecks, or other casualty, or from theft, is deductible and need not be incurred in trade or business. Hence the loss occasioned by the theft of jewelry or the theft of an automobile or other property used in trade or business.

The term "other casualty" within the meaning of the revenue act of 1928, is one arising through the physical forces of nature, for example a flood or frost. Allowance, of course, must be made for any insurance received.

Loss of property by theft or burglary is an allowable deduction and need not be incurred in trade or business. Hence the loss occasioned by the theft of jewelry or the theft of an automobile or other property used in trade or business.

Should circumstances attending the loss of jewelry leave the owner in doubt as to whether it was stolen, mislaid, or lost from his person a claim for loss would not be allowed.

It must be established that the jewelry was not in the possession of the owner when it was stolen.

A loss through embezzlement is deductible for the year in which sustained.

M. PASTERNAK

1219 CONNECTICUT AVE.

A TAILORED SUIT

is no smarter than its Tailoring!

... your tailleur is the most exacting costume in your wardrobe; for a "little" less than tailored perfection is a "great deal" less than chic! Pasternak workmanship is proverbially fine; and a Pasternak tailored suit has the distinction that comes only with fine fabrics, simple cut and skillful making.

Ready to put on or custom-made to order.

Smart Travellers Look For

The Fairfax

First Avenue at 14th Street at 43rd
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
713 Delaware Avenue,
WILLIAMSBURG, N. J.

RATES ABOUT HALF OF OTHER FINE HOTELS

Double Room With Bath
Single Room With Bath
Living Room With Bath
Double Room With Bath
Double Room With Bath

THE HECHT CO.

"F Street at Seventh"

Many of you are now buying a Knit-tex Topcoat and a Worsted-tex Suit together. You like the wrinkle-proof, drizzle-proof, every-weather Knit-tex Topcoat. You appreciate the smartness-without-expensiveness of the Worsted-tex Suit. You save time and get an outstanding value by buying the combination at $70. May we show you the harmonizing weaves?

The Knit-tex Coat, $30...
The Worsted-tex Suit, $40
Both for $70

Direct Elevator Service to the Men's Clothing Dept., Second Floor.

Knit-tex Coats for Women—for Sale on the Third Floor—$30

BRUCE GOVERNMENT TESTED BY PAY BILL

General Election Is Expected in Australia if State Aid Recall Fails.

LABOR OPPOSES MEASURE

Canberra, Australia, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—The federal government today faced the biggest political crisis since Premier W. S. Hughes went out of office in 1926. The cause is the financial agreement which eliminates per capita payments by the commonwealth to the states. Labor is solidly in favor of restoration of these payments.

The defeat of the government would mean the resignation of Stanley Bruce, prime minister, and his cabinet, and formation of a ministry by James Henry Scullin, Labor leader. A Labor leader could not fail to retain control in a general election would be inevitable.

Former Premier Hughes, usually a government supporter, has been active against the bill, but it was not thought he would be acceptable to the Laborites, the Nationalists (government party) or the Laborites. Mr. Hughes claims the Nationalists in 1926 specifically laid down that per capita payments to the state would be abandoned unless the states themselves agreed to it.

The government, he charged, has disregarded that pledge and brought in a measure forcing its own financial scheme down the throats of the states.

The precarious position of the cabinet was reflected in a house of representatives last week, when only the speaker's vote saved the government from defeat on a vote following a quarrel over parliamentary procedure.

Three Mine Policemen Charged With Murder

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 19 (A.P.)—W. J. Lyster, Harold Waits and Frank Slapak, coal and iron policemen, today were held responsible by a coroner's jury for the killing of John Bercevic, a Santiago miner, who was beaten to death in an iron mine at the mines at Imperial, February 10. The jury recommended that the trio be held on charge of murder to await action of the grand jury.

The jury also recommended that a coroner's investigation be made of the conditions governing the coal and iron police system. The accused men were re-committed to jail without the privilege of bail by Coroner W. J. McGregor.

U. S. Envoy to Cuba Returning.

Havana, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—Col. Noble Brandon Judah, American Ambassador, today announced his departure Thursday for Washington, where he will pass three days on official business. He plans then to return to Chile, returning to Havana March 4. Mrs. Judah and their children will remain here.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

THROUGH ICE-BOUND EUROPE.
(In the Name of the Correspondence from the Byrd Expedition.)

Breslau, Germany: Here we are in the floating ice near the Wilhelm Bridge, all suffering intensely from the cold, but each doing his jolly best to keep up a spirit of cheerfulness. Jarvis, our Cook's Tour guide—good old Jarvis—shot a seal this morning near the railroad station and we all helped dress and bake it. After dinner we sang college songs. Our luggage came by plane, his mandolin, and now until he had collapsed from pain we realize he had been playing it with both hands frozen. A plucky boy, Reeves. We have moved our base from Paris with the loss of only one dog, Smilie, which bit a poison ivy plant. The poor creature was frozen and the poor dog lost all his upper teeth biting him. He was unable to masticate properly thereafter and starved to death.

Venice: We have prepared thus far by dog-sled after a terrific battle with the elements. Commander Twitchell wants to push on to the Riviera, but I don't think it is possible. We are in Italy and southern France this season. Jarvis saved us from another day of hunger by going out in his quiet way and shooting a brace of penguins this morning. We gathered around him and said, "Star-Spangled Banner." As we watched him prepare a penguin stew, we are constantly passing great numbers of American tourists locked in the ice.

Genoa: Now we have crossed the Alps, although how did it will always remain a mystery. We lost three dogs, eat like Redskins and our health and spirits are not up. We are trying to keep up by singing "Mother of Men, Oh Yale." We are determined to push on to Venice where it is believed it may be possible to get food and fresh clothing. We will go after the ice-pack has broken up. I wonder whether southern Italy can be reached this year. Jarvis killed a seal today.

Vienna: We have prepared thus far by dog-sled after a terrific battle with the elements. Commander Twitchell wants to push on to the Riviera, but I don't think it is possible. We are in Italy and southern France this season. Jarvis saved us from another day of hunger by going out in his quiet way and shooting a brace of penguins this morning. We gathered around him and said, "Star-Spangled Banner." As we watched him prepare a penguin stew, we are constantly passing great numbers of American tourists locked in the ice.

There is a rumor that they are going to merge "Dynamo" with "Mimic" and produce it as the first dramatization of the Einstein theory.

SOUTHERN VACATION.
Here I sit.

At twenty past day
Wishin' the rail
One would console
Me blue and bad
Is just as bad.

Spring can't be very far away; the legislatures are blossoming with bills to repeat the daylight saving law.

Add Smiles (with due credit to Pete Yoder) as tough as a man who shaves with a blow torch.

(Copyright, 1929.)

The Children

By Edith Wharton

A sparkling serial story by one of America's foremost novelists at the gleaming heights of her power.

SYNOPSIS.

Marion Borne, a civil engineer, who has been kept busy on projects in all parts of the world, is looking forward to another fortnight of solitude in the mountains of the Andes, next to his tagged "Mrs. Cliff Wheeler." Cliff Wheeler is a schoolmate of his at college, and Marion's husband, the son of Marion's mother. Marion is pursued by the varied types of villainy, but the author's pen is as merciless as his. His mother is told by the gray-haired woman called "Acosy," her name is Marion's, that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother, a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," recalls her husband's name, and when the author of the story asks Marion to intercede on his behalf, she agrees with a Mrs. Sellars, Hetherie "unsmiling," that her son is "Terry," and his health is poor. Marion's mother

WASHINGTON: WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1929.

17

AMATEUR BOXING REPORTED FAVORABLY TO HOUSE

Fumble Ruling Meets Praise In East

Few Dissenting Voices Greet Edict Making Loose Ball Dead.

Coaches Among Other Sections Divided on Modified Code.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—With only a few dissenting voices, Eastern college coaches today voted to accept the proposed changes made in the football rules by the national football rules committee.

Most of the coaches, commenting upon the changes at the request of the Associated Press, commended the new rules, while others, taking a fumbled ball recovered by the defense side dead at the point of recovery, coaches favoring the new rule took the position that loss of the ball was penalty enough for the fumble team and that the change in the code would make for even more spectacular form of offense.

The dissenters, and they included such figures as Lou Young, of the University of Pennsylvania; Maj. Frank W. Cavenagh, of Cornell; William J. Birmingham, director of athletics at Harvard, and Larry Baskant, former Dartmouth and Colgate coach, objected to the rule change on the ground that it removed from the game one of the most exciting plays—the run for touchdown or long gain after recovery of a fumble.

Rule Handicaps Weaker Teams, Penn Coach Believes.

Young thought the rule would penalize the weaker teams, taking from them a chance of winning a game with a much stronger rival. He further objected that it removes the uncertainty of the game where teams are evenly matched and where a fumble might win or lose the game.

Maj. Cavenagh, although granting that the rule was "a good one," agreed that another thrill thus passed out of the football picture. Birmingham expressed the same opinion, but Baskant put a different slant on the matter.

"Making the other team fumble is a legitimate interest," said the coach. "The greatest pressure," he said, "is to give the team that gets the ball the greatest thrill thus passed out of the football picture. Birmingham expressed the same opinion, but Baskant put a different slant on the matter.

Rules More Open Football, Is Stand of Notable Group.

On the other side of the fence were arrayed such coaches as Joe McKernan, Boston College; Jim Rodgers, West Virginia; Bob Williams, Carnegie Tech; Artie Karp, Washington, and referee Tad Jones, Yale; Cleo O'Donnell, Holy Cross; Arthur Sampson, Tufts.

Almost all of these pressed their opinion that the rule was good because it did not penalize the team for the mistake of one man and because the modification would lead to a more open brand of football particularly when the offensive side is close to a touchdown.

New York newspapers split in their opinions on the changes and on the

CONTINUED ON PAGE 19, COLUMN 8

Foreign Track Stars Clash For U.S. Titles on Saturday

Nurmi and Wide May Meet at Two Miles in A. A. U. Games.

JOHN McGRAW
—THERE HE SITS—ON DEFENSIVE

By WESTBROOK PLEGER.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (A.P.)—The pick of the foreign runners here in this country will be trying for American titles along with the cream of the homegrown college and club talent in the national senior track and field championships at Madison Square Garden Saturday.

Pavlo Nurmi and Eino Purje, his fellow Finn, who has beaten him in a 1,500-meter race and holds the world's 2,000-meter record, and Edvin Wide, of Sweden, will be the two nice boys at Miami Beach. Mr. Dempsey has been stimulating interest in the battle of the two home-loving husbands down South and Mr. McGraw is carrying the day for a day or two to send the festive bunch for his youth.

A big, bluberry pitcher named Geland Buckeye, who used to work for the Indians in the American League, was picked up by the Giants this winter.

Whether Nurmi and Wide will meet is not the only question with the two nice boys at Miami Beach. Mr. Dempsey has been stimulating interest in the battle of the two home-loving husbands down South and Mr. McGraw is carrying the day for a day or two to send the festive bunch for his youth.

That is the way Mr. McGraw is. He's hard. Ball players may be heroes to the customers and stockholders, but the stockholders and plant foremen, they are just employees. There are seams and tackle and house regulations on the other side of the baseball line, and a fellow may hit a home run and win a ball game for John, then tear across the field to the dressing room to catch the devil for using too many towels in the shower or punching the time clock five minutes late.

When in Dutch, Repudiate, According to McGraw.

Mr. McGraw has gotten away with more here in New York than any other place in the country, and he is not alone. His business prospers or falls in direct proportion to the volume and tone of the publicity he gets in the newspapers. You would suppose that a fellow in the business, especially one so young as Eino, would not be likely to warp his nature slightly out of shape to propitiate the press. But not John.

If John thinks it will injure his immediate interests, tell the baseball reporters the truth about some baseball affair, he does not tell the truth. Once, a long time back, he talked himself into a jam over in Pittsburgh and issued a statement that would have caused him some temporary embarrassment and agony if he had stood by it. When John realized that he had overspoken himself, he said the baseball reporters were a lot liars. They, in turn, said John was a liar. But that is far from the matter, even went John's reputation standing and the papers went right along with the score by innings.

Illinois A. C. Enters Ten-Man Team; Two Champions.

Headed by a pair of champions in Conger and Herb Schwarze, who set the world's indoor record in winning the 1927 national indoor title, the Illinois team has been entered to represent the Illinois A. C. in an attempt to repeat its team victory.

On the other side of the fence were arrayed such coaches as Joe McKernan, Boston College; Jim Rodgers, West Virginia; Bob Williams, Carnegie Tech; Artie Karp, Washington, and referee Tad Jones, Yale; Cleo O'Donnell, Holy Cross; Arthur Sampson, Tufts.

Almost all of these pressed their opinion that the rule was good because it did not penalize the team for the mistake of one man and because the modification would lead to a more open brand of football particularly when the offensive side is close to a touchdown.

New York newspapers split in their opinions on the changes and on the

CONTINUED ON PAGE 19, COLUMN 1.

Mr. Sampson, whose star athlete, Charley Major, negro athlete, whose business prospered or falls in direct proportion to the volume and tone of the publicity he gets in the newspapers. You would suppose that a fellow in the business, especially one so young as Eino, would not be likely to warp his nature slightly out of shape to propitiate the press. But not John.

If John thinks it will injure his immediate interests, tell the baseball reporters the truth about some baseball affair, he does not tell the truth. Once, a long time back, he talked himself into a jam over in Pittsburgh and issued a statement that would have caused him some temporary embarrassment and agony if he had stood by it. When John realized that he had overspoken himself, he said the baseball reporters were a lot liars. They, in turn, said John was a liar. But that is far from the matter, even went John's reputation standing and the papers went right along with the score by innings.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

Both the Boston A. A. with its 2000 star athlete, Charley Major, Leo Lerman and the New York A. A. Behr's Illinois outfit, have strong delegations, and the colleges, hitting near the peak of their form in preparation for their own title games here a week later, promise plenty of additional competition.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 19, COLUMN 1.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

He sits down in his dugout, his face a purplish red, peering out over the ball yard with his little gray eyes, boll-

ing in the sun.

He is Great Offensive Insulter if Not Beaten to the Insult.

He is a great offensive insulter, and the only way to avoid being insulted by him is to insult him first and keep on insulting him. He knows how to lead with his insults, but as a counterinsulter he never was much. So the ball players who used to beat him in always make a point of besting him to the insult and keeping him on the defensive.

D. C. GOLF BODY SUPREME UNDER NEW CONSTITUTION

12 Local Clubs Subordinated To Group

Lose Independent Status and Must Obey Body's Rulings.

Many Minor Reforms Made; Pars Must Be Uniform.

BY HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

ESTABLISHMENT of the District of Columbia Golf Association as a supreme governing body, which subordinated all 12 member clubs, was completed yesterday with the completion of the work of the committee revising the constitution of the D. C. G. A.

The new provision in the constitution, which heading of "Obligations and Disciplines," erases the status of the member clubs as independent organizations and subordinates them to the District association. The new section in the constitution changes the organization's constitution, and reads as follows:

"The acceptance of membership in the association, and the observance of all the provisions of the constitution, by-laws and other rules of the association, and to accept and enforce all rules and decisions of the executive committee acting within its jurisdiction."

The section is copied almost verbatim from a clause in the constitution of the United States Golf Association.

Membership Limited to Clubs Within 30 Miles of City.

The revision committee has made comparatively few changes in the constitution, although some are important. The new section on "Disciplines" was set for the second Monday in March instead of the first Monday, in order that there may be no conflict with inauguration day in the future. Twelve clubs—Argyle, Brooksburn, Columbia, Congressional, Indian Spring, Manor, Town and Country, War College and Washington Golf and Country—are specified as member clubs, but provision is made for such other clubs as may desire to be admitted to membership. Eligibility for membership is limited to any club within 30 miles of the District of Columbia, "which owns, leases, or maintains, an amateur playing club or clubs, or has one or more golf courses of not less than nine holes, and conducts its club activities solely for the benefit of its members and not for gain."

Playoff of Ties Must Follow Next Day, If New Rule.

The by-laws, which may be amended at any time by the association or the executive committee, provide for the conduct of the annual tournaments, the eligible for the District amateur championship being limited to players with handicaps of 14 or less. A new provision makes it obligatory that all ties at the end of the 72 holes, medal play, and stroke play, be decided the next day at 10 hours, or thereafter until one contestant undercuts his opponent. In the past the players who had tied fixed the date of the play-off to suit themselves.

Another new section provides for a gold medal to the winner of the District junior championship, with a silver and a bronze medal for the second and third lowest scores. Hitherto the junior had been compelled to be content with the inscription of his name upon the trophy donated by Alber R. Mackenzie.

Clubs Must Determine Pars Under U. S. A. System.

The new constitution also makes it imperative upon all the clubs to employ the methods promulgated by the United States Golf Association for determining the pars of its courses and adopting the U. S. A. system of handicapping "in order that all contestants may be treated with the greatest possible degree of equity."

The revision committee has now finally incorporated into the new document the article on "Sports and Tourism and Professionalism" recently framed by the committee appointed for that purpose under the chairmanship of Dr. Bruce L. Taylor. This article, which had been embodied in its entirety in The Post, is however, made a part of the report and when adopted will be added to the new constitution by the vote of the association. The article does not attempt to define or limit the clubs' rights in defining classes, but provides for an ineligible list, including players "a material portion of whose income for any period after the adoption of this article is attributable to his skill as a golfer."

HAVANA ENTRIES.

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs, purse, $800. Claiming for 3-year-olds.

McFerrin, 96* "Poker" 106

Edna Little, 93 "Jack" 108

2nd—D. H. "Pete" 107

3rd—D. H. "Pete" 107

4th—D. H. "Pete" 107

5th—D. H. "Pete" 107

6th—D. H. "Pete" 107

7th—D. H. "Pete" 107

8th—D. H. "Pete" 107

9th—D. H. "Pete" 107

10th—D. H. "Pete" 107

11th—D. H. "Pete" 107

12th—D. H. "Pete" 107

13th—D. H. "Pete" 107

14th—D. H. "Pete" 107

15th—D. H. "Pete" 107

16th—D. H. "Pete" 107

17th—D. H. "Pete" 107

18th—D. H. "Pete" 107

19th—D. H. "Pete" 107

20th—D. H. "Pete" 107

21st—D. H. "Pete" 107

22nd—D. H. "Pete" 107

23rd—D. H. "Pete" 107

24th—D. H. "Pete" 107

25th—D. H. "Pete" 107

26th—D. H. "Pete" 107

27th—D. H. "Pete" 107

28th—D. H. "Pete" 107

29th—D. H. "Pete" 107

30th—D. H. "Pete" 107

31st—D. H. "Pete" 107

32nd—D. H. "Pete" 107

33rd—D. H. "Pete" 107

34th—D. H. "Pete" 107

35th—D. H. "Pete" 107

36th—D. H. "Pete" 107

37th—D. H. "Pete" 107

38th—D. H. "Pete" 107

39th—D. H. "Pete" 107

40th—D. H. "Pete" 107

41st—D. H. "Pete" 107

42nd—D. H. "Pete" 107

43rd—D. H. "Pete" 107

44th—D. H. "Pete" 107

45th—D. H. "Pete" 107

46th—D. H. "Pete" 107

47th—D. H. "Pete" 107

48th—D. H. "Pete" 107

49th—D. H. "Pete" 107

50th—D. H. "Pete" 107

51st—D. H. "Pete" 107

52nd—D. H. "Pete" 107

53rd—D. H. "Pete" 107

54th—D. H. "Pete" 107

55th—D. H. "Pete" 107

56th—D. H. "Pete" 107

57th—D. H. "Pete" 107

58th—D. H. "Pete" 107

59th—D. H. "Pete" 107

60th—D. H. "Pete" 107

61st—D. H. "Pete" 107

62nd—D. H. "Pete" 107

63rd—D. H. "Pete" 107

64th—D. H. "Pete" 107

65th—D. H. "Pete" 107

66th—D. H. "Pete" 107

67th—D. H. "Pete" 107

68th—D. H. "Pete" 107

69th—D. H. "Pete" 107

70th—D. H. "Pete" 107

71st—D. H. "Pete" 107

72nd—D. H. "Pete" 107

73rd—D. H. "Pete" 107

74th—D. H. "Pete" 107

75th—D. H. "Pete" 107

76th—D. H. "Pete" 107

77th—D. H. "Pete" 107

78th—D. H. "Pete" 107

79th—D. H. "Pete" 107

80th—D. H. "Pete" 107

81st—D. H. "Pete" 107

82nd—D. H. "Pete" 107

83rd—D. H. "Pete" 107

84th—D. H. "Pete" 107

85th—D. H. "Pete" 107

86th—D. H. "Pete" 107

87th—D. H. "Pete" 107

88th—D. H. "Pete" 107

89th—D. H. "Pete" 107

90th—D. H. "Pete" 107

91st—D. H. "Pete" 107

92nd—D. H. "Pete" 107

93rd—D. H. "Pete" 107

94th—D. H. "Pete" 107

95th—D. H. "Pete" 107

96th—D. H. "Pete" 107

97th—D. H. "Pete" 107

98th—D. H. "Pete" 107

99th—D. H. "Pete" 107

100th—D. H. "Pete" 107

101st—D. H. "Pete" 107

102nd—D. H. "Pete" 107

103rd—D. H. "Pete" 107

104th—D. H. "Pete" 107

105th—D. H. "Pete" 107

106th—D. H. "Pete" 107

107th—D. H. "Pete" 107

108th—D. H. "Pete" 107

109th—D. H. "Pete" 107

110th—D. H. "Pete" 107

COMPLETE TRANSACTIONS OF YESTERDAY ON THE NEW YORK CURB MARKET EXCHANGE

TUESDAY, FEB. 19.	High	Low	Close	Sale	Trade	High	Low	Close	Sale	Trade	High	Low	Close	Sale	Trade	High	Low	Close	Sale	Trade	High	Low	Close	Sale	Trade	High	Low	Close
8,000 Acoustic Prod. A	113	95	101	200 Brit. Am. Tob. B.	32 1/2	32 1/2	32 1/2	30 Cumberland Pipe. .	70	70	70	6,300 Gen. Bak. New. .	9 1/2	72 1/2	9 1/2	3,000 Niles Pipe. .	113 1/2	113 1/2	113 1/2	1,000 United Biscuit. .	70	70	70	500 West Coast Auto Sup. .	138	158	158
800 Astro Under. .	45	44	45	300 British Celanese. .	5 1/2	5 1/2	5 1/2	100 Cumberland. .	43	43	43	3,000 Niles Pipe. .	229 1/2	229 1/2	229 1/2	300 United Carb. v. C. .	4 1/2	4 1/2	4 1/2	600 Westco Chlorine. .	87	87	87
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	100 Curtiss. .	118	118	118	400 Gen. Biscuit. .	41 1/2	40	40	100 United Carbon. p. .	93	95	95	400 White Nights Inc. .	15	15	15
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	4,500 Curtiss. A. E. .	48 1/2	46 1/2	48 1/2	400 Gen. Cable war. .	41 1/2	39	39	2,000 Carb. v. C. .	45	45	45	2,000 Carb. v. C. .	15	15	15
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	4,500 Curtiss. P. .	5 1/2	5 1/2	5 1/2	400 Gen. Fireproofing. .	26 1/2	26 1/2	26 1/2	3,700 C. P. & L. v. C. .	32	32	32	2,000 Carb. v. C. .	15	15	15
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	4,500 Curtiss. P. .	5 1/2	5 1/2	5 1/2	400 Gen. Fireproofing. .	26 1/2	26 1/2	26 1/2	3,700 C. P. & L. v. C. .	32	32	32	2,000 Carb. v. C. .	15	15	15
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Darby Pet. .	20	20	20	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Darby Pet. .	20	20	20	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57	57	1,300 Gen. R. & U. of. .	100	100	100	1,000 United Gas Imp. .	124	128	128	1,700 Vacuum Oil. .	118 1/2	118 1/2	118 1/2
100 Astro. .	100	98	99	100 British C. & P. Co. .	11	10	10	200 Davis Pet. .	57	57</

